Gross Says O'Brien Accepted Graft

Names Ex-Commissioner Among Others—Talks Without Balks

New York, May 7 (AP)—Boss bookie Harry Gross testified today that he once paid graft to Inspector William P. O'Brien, who later became New York's police commissioner.

Gross rattled off a series of names of police inspectors, lieutenants and plain clothesmen to whom he had paid graft over a 10-year period in exchange for protection for his numerous betting rooms in Brooklyn.

Six policemen were specifically on trial today by the police department for failing to do their duty in closing up gambling establishments and on a charge of perjury from a previous trial.

At the earlier trial Gross had refused to testify against any of the police and the trial collapsed.

Never Faltered

Today, however, Gross never faltered. He talked fully of his many horse rooms, which reputedly brought him in 20 million dollars a year. As Gross was rattling off the names of police officers he had paid he mentioned the name of O'Brien as the inspector in charge of one of Brooklyn's police divisions.

"He was later police commissioner," Gross added casually.

"Did you have an arrangement (to pay protection) with him?," asked Assistant Corporation Counsel Victor J. Herwitz.

"I did," Gross said firmly.

Gross, who pleaded guilty to bookmaking and conspiracy last year, was sentenced to 12 years imprisonment after he abruptly refused to testify at a criminal trial against 18 police officers.

Reportedly in the hope of lightening his stiff sentence, Gross took the stand today to run through his alleged payoff list.

A total of 18 policemen face departmental trial. Only one of them, however, was a defendant in the original criminal trial and he obtained a severance because of illness before Gross balked.

The others were named as co-conspirators at that trial.

Monthly Pay-Off

The "arangement" for police protection for some 27 betting places he ran, Gross said, was a monthly pay-off of $200 for each location plus $25 to $50 for the lieutenant in charge of the plain clothes squad and $50 to $100 to the inspector in charge of the division.

Sometimes, Gross said, he paid the inspector's men rather than the inspector himself. The protection pay-off extended over 10 years, Gross said.

At the time of his arrest in 1950, Gross was reportedly paying one million dollars a year to protect his gambling empire.

He said the Manhattan location price was higher than in Brooklyn —$350 plus the usual side money to top officers.

Gross made no further mention of former Police Commissioner O'Brien in his testimony and did not say whether he dealt with him directly or through one of his men.

Vienna, May 7 (AP)—The owner of a bookstore in Bratislava, Czechoslovakia advertised four Russian books in her window and almost immediately was arrested by police, the Vienna newspaper "Wiener Kurier" reported today. The bookstore proprietor had written the titles on a poster in the following order: "We Want to Live," "Far From Moscow," "In the Shadows of the Skyscrapers," "Under a Foreign Flag."

Bonn, Germany, May 7 (AP)—Allied-German negotiations on the peace contract for West Germany got another unexpected setback today. Chancellor Konrad Adenauer remained ill with tonsilitis and could not meet with the allied high commissioners.

Russell Takes Florida in Only Southern Primary Kefauver Entered

(By The Associated Press)

Ohio Democrats voted Sen. Estes Kefauver into the lead today in the race for presidential nominating delegates, but the Tennessean suffered his first primary defeat in Florida. Sen. Robert Taft swamped his opposition in Ohio to move in front again on the Republican side.

Sen. Richard Russell of Georgia won a narrow victory over Kefauver in the Democratic popularity contest in Florida, the first and only southern primary in which Kefauver was entered.

Delegates were not chosen in the contest yesterday. A second primary will be held May 27 to elect delegates and both Kefauver and Russell are expected to put on another campaign in Florida before then.

Has 275,728 Votes

With returns in from 1,380 of the state's 1,682 precincts, Russell had 275,728 votes and Kefauver 249,862. Russell gained most of his strength in the rural areas while Kefauver was a heavy winner in Miami and other cities.

Returns were incomplete in Ohio, which had no popularity test, but indications were that Kefauver would win in most of the 31 delegate contests in which he was entered. Kefauver men were leading in 25 of those races.

The Tennessean was opposed by former Sen. Robert Bulkley, a favorite son who sought all but one of the state's 54 Democratic convention votes. Kefauver was unopposed in one contest.

Ahead of Harriman

The Ohio victory was certain to put him ahead of Mutual Security Administrator W. Averell Harriman in the run for delegates. Before Ohio, Harriman had 96½ delegates on his side, Kefauver 91½. The Associated Press survey is based on candidates pledged, instructed, favorable, willing to state a first ballot preference or conceded by candidates.

Taft's victory in Ohio pushed him well ahead of Gen. Dwight Eisenhower in the Republican delegate contesting. Before the Ohio vote, Eisenhower led Taft 284-281 in the AP tabulation. Taft claimed he was well in the lead even before Ohio.

It seemed probable that Taft would win all 56 of Ohio's Republican delegates to the Republican convention. Eisenhower's name was not on the ballot, but two delegate candidates said they were for the general. Former Gov. Harold Stassen of Minnesota contested for 47 delegates.

Methodists Take Shot at Smoking

San Francisco, May 7 (AP)—The quadrennial general conference of the Methodist Church closed a legislation-packed 14-day session last night with a parting shot at smoking.

In the final, fast-moving session, the conference voted to continue the no smoking pledge required of ministerial candidates. It voted against giving full ministerial rights to women, set forth the church's views on war and peace, made a change in the church's social creed, and set up a new board to study social and economic relations.

Church spokesmen said the conference made more major changes in church organization than any since the first conference of the United Methodist Churches in 1939. It also handled a record number of legislative petitions.

From a survey commission report on overhauling church structure, the conference chose the least controversial parts and ordered them enacted. It agreed to redraw the organization of the 40,000 local churches, making an expanded official board the administrative authority in each.

Korea Talk At New Low In Munsan

Top Officials Say Rest Up to Other — Reds Insist Upon Session Thursday

Plan Rejected

Reds Spurn Package Proposal Presented April 28

Munsan, Korea, May 7 (AP)—Korean truce talks sank to an all-time low today after the Communists rejected the allies' "clear, final and irrevocable" package proposal.

Top negotiators of each side told the other: "The next move is up to you."

Agreement appeared so remote the United Nations command proposed an indefinite recess of armistice talks. But full delegations will meet again tomorrow at 11 a. m. (9 p. m. Wednesday EST) at Red insistence.

Negotiators abruptly ended the secrecy which had shrouded the talks since the allied package deal was presented April 28. In Tokyo Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway promptly announced the virtual allied ultimatum. It is a three-point package:

1. The UN command would return 70,000 of 132,000 captured Chinese and North Koreans in exchange for 12,000 allied troops held by the Reds. This is the crux of the deadlock.

2. The Communists would be permitted to build and repair North Korean airfields.

3. The Reds would drop their nomination of Russia as a "neutral nation" to help police a truce.

Accepted as Whole

Ridgway said this was a package to be accepted as a whole. He said:

"Our position is one from which we cannot and shall not retreat."

The Communists turned down this package and submitted a counter offer Friday, it was disclosed. The allies rejected it.

The big issue is voluntary versus involuntary repatriation of prisoners. The UN command says only 70,000 prisoners of war and civilians said they would be willing to return to Communist territory. Others threatened suicide rather than return.

Maj. Gen. Bryan L. Milburn, in charge of prisoners, said:

"We tried to return every one of the 170,000 prisoners we hold unless they had an honest fear of returning to Communist control."

Under the Red plan the Communists would get back 132,000 prisoners in exchange for 12,000 UN POWs. The other two points would be the same as the allied plan. The Reds previously had hinted repeatedly they wanted to swap Russian supervision for the right to repair airfields.

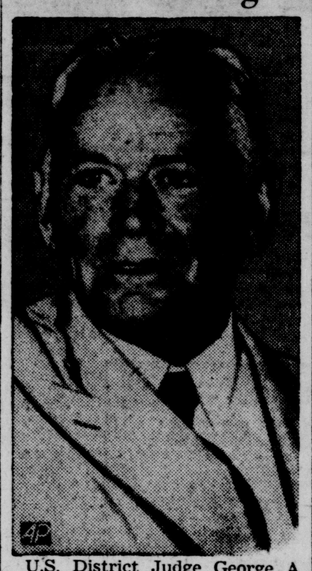

Only 70,000 Agreed

But in five days of interviewing by a crew of 200, only 70,000 prisoners of war and civilians said they would not forcibly oppose return to North Korea or Red China.

The allied package provided for neutral interviews of all un-

Two More Seized In 2-State Raids By Investigators

Bistany Bail Is $100,000, That of Orfao $50,000; Lytwyn Held for $10,000

Providence, R. I., May 7 (AP)—Investigators from several police departments and FBI agents delving in the criminal activities of gangster Harvey "Mad Dog" Bistany seized two more men today in raids in Medford, Mass., and Central Falls, R. I.

Seized in his Central Falls home and booked on a charge of violating a federal bank robbery statute was Bernard R. Domanski, 31.

William Smith, 24, described as a former professional boxer, was nabbed in his Medford, Mass., home by police who also said they collected a small arsenal of weapons and burglar tools there.

Both men were arrested shortly before Bistany and two companions were arraigned on gun carrying charges in district court here and held in high bail.

Wanted for Questioning

Bistany is wanted for questioning in the $29,000 burglarly of the Brevoort branch post office in Brooklyn, N. Y., 13 months ago and several other holdups and burglaries.

Bistany, a one-eyed former boxer from Lawrence, Mass., was bound over to the Providence county grand jury after withdrawing an innocent plea and pleading guilty to a charge of carrying a concealed weapon.

District Judge Luigi de Pasquale set bail at $100,000.

Manuel J. Orfao, Jr., 35, of Dracut, Mass., pleaded guilty to carrying a pistol and was held in $50,000 for the grand jury.

Feinsinger Fears Chaos And Strikes

WSB Chairman Thinks Situations Might Be Result of Group's Loss of Authority

Fairness Claimed

Disputes Wilson, Says Recommendations Are Consistent

Washington, May 7 (AP)—Nathan P. Feinsinger told Congress today a rash of serious strikes and industrial "chaos" may result if Congress strips the Wage Stabilization Board (WSB) of power to recommend settlements in labor disputes.

Feinsinger, chairman of the WSB, testified at the House Labor Committee's investigation of his agency. Only yesterday Charles E. Wilson, former mobilization chief who resigned in protest against administration handling of the steel labor case, had suggested to the group that the wage board's powers should be trimmed.

Wilson asserted the WSB went far beyond stabilization policy in its recommendations for a wage rise for steel workers.

Disputing that, Feinsinger said the board's recommendations were fair and were consistent with wage increases negotiated voluntarily in other industries.

Urges No Hasty Action

Feinsinger urged that Congress take no "hasty action" which he said could result in "serious consequences."

What Congress does, Feinsinger added, "may mean the difference between industrial peace and chaos in the days to come."

Feinsinger opposed the idea, often proposed in Congress, that the WSB be made up of solely public members, or that public members have an overwhelming majority.

The present 18-member board is made up of six members representing the public, six representing industry, and six representing labor.

Feinsinger said it was generally overlooked that over 90 per cent of the WSB's decisions have been unanimous, with public, labor and industry members agreeing.

Few Are 'Dispute' Cases

He said less than one per cent of the board's cases have been the so-called "dispute" cases. The remainder being wage increases negotiated by employers and unions and voluntarily and jointly submitted to the WSB for approval.

Feinsinger said he did not claim the WSB's record was "perfect by any means," but he insisted the board had been generally successful in curbing wage increases and in preserving labor peace.

"I do think it is a good record on the whole," he declared.

Center of a storm of controversy stirred up in Congress over the board's steel decision, Feinsinger went to the capitol after announcing he plans to quit his job by June 30. Feinsinger, on leave from the University of Wisconsin Law School, told an audience in Madison, Wis. Monday night he is tired and needs a rest.

Bequest of $5,000 Made to City 'Lab'; $30,000 Permitted

Aldermen Vote in Favor of Developing Two Streets in New Housing Area

A bequest of $5,000 to the City of Kingston Laboratory was accepted and $30,000 was authorized for street development of Dietz Court and Melvin Drive, (the Singer & Greene project) through Common Council legislation last night.

The aldermen also considered new traffic proposals for regulating traffic after the Broadway underpass is opened, accepted the Board of Education Budget for filing, and considered several claims including one by Elmer Carney, of Florence street extension, which was the subject of heated argument.

The $5,000 bequest was made in the will of Elsa Mason Lord Peabody, and a letter from Corporation Counsel James G. Connelly explained that the executrix wished to get a receipt and release.

Will Bind Books

A resolution was necessary to accept the money and direct its deposit in a special bank account, the corporation counsel said, and after the reading of another letter from Dr. Herbert Derman, director of the laboratory, the aldermen voted to approve the use of $1,000 immediately "for the binding of a large backlog of medical journals in the library."

Dr. Derman's letter said that the laboratory's Board of Managers had requested that the "money be set aside for use of the medical library as a fitting and proper memorial to our benefactor."

The letter also explained that interest on the remaining $4,000 would be used annually to bind

Aldermen Request Reason on Leaving Police Posts Vacant

Call on Police and Civil Service Boards for 'Official Word' on Captaincy Cut

A seven-point resolution asking explanation of the discontinuance of the positions of police captain and detective in the city was adopted by the Common Council last night.

The resolution, offered by Third Ward Alderman Edwin Radel, was seconded by Seventh Ward Alderman Thomas Coughlin, and adopted unanimously, with one alderman, Fifth Ward Samuel J. Perry absent.

The salary for the rank of captain was provided for in the 1952 budget, the resolution said, and the police board "and/or the civil service board published the fact that a vacancy was to be filled and an examination was held.

Call Report Unofficial

All interested, eligible patrolmen and officers paid fees for the examination and there existed "in all ranks the anticipation of potential promotions." The last published word on the subject, it said, was "an unofficial report," telling of the abolishment of the position.

The resolution asked that the council "vote as a body to demand from the Civil Service Commission the full and authentic facts and reason for:

1. Publishing a notice of the vacancy to be filled.
2. Holding examinations for all ranks.
3. Publishing a list of eligible contenders.
4. Unofficially declaring the vacancy abolished.
5. The status of the police department as individuals as to the marks they made.

City Water Fund Taken For Purpose

Kelly Refers Resolution on Survey to BPW for Action—Property Sale Proposed

$75,000 Allotted

Public Works Board Has Money to Use Upon Street Construction

The Common Council on recommendation of Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk last night authorized transferring $50,000 from a water department surplus for repairing city streets.

The vote with Fifth Ward Alderman Samuel J. Perry absent, was unanimous, and a resolution by Tenth Ward Alderman James K. Ryan suggestiong a council committee to make a survey of street conditions and "set up a system of priorities," was referred to the Board of Public Works by Alderman-at-Large Joseph Kelly.

The water board surplus, it was learned today, was about $105,000 as of last Dec. 31, and the current surplus is about $68,000.

Mayor Newkirk's letter to the council said the city is facing a serious condition where its highway system is concerned and the past winter was more destructive than anticipated when the 1952 budget was prepared.

Calls It Insufficient

The amount appropriated, he said, was insufficient to do the work necessary to repair the winter damage and "to protect the city's huge investment in street pavements."

Bonds cannot be authorized for street repair work, but only for "major street construction," he stressed, and "our people are demanding that our street system be placed in good condition."

The mayor said he know of no other method to meet this demand "than to appropriate any city surpluses which may be available to the Department of Public Works for street work."

Only Surplus Found

The letter said an examination had been made of city departments and a surplus was found only in the water department.

This he said, "represents money paid by the taxpayers of our city over the cost of operation of that department, and may be used for any lawful municipal purpose upon your approval."

In his annual message, the mayor said, he suggested to the water board that consideration be given "to the sale by that board of valuable surplus properties in the town of Woodstock no longer used for water purposes, and on which the city is paying a substantial amount in taxes to the town of Woodstock."

The money from such a sale, the mayor proposed be made available for street maintenance purposes.

Has Not Acted

"I regret that up to date," he said, "the board has shown no disposition to follow this suggestion which would have permitted the city to undertake a most substantial street program."

In view of these circumstances, he said, he recommended that the council transfer $50,000 from water board funds "and that such funds be appropriated to the BPW for street maintenance and repair."

Alderman Ryan, the only one to comment, said that $50,000 seemed a large sum to take from any one department and he suggested it be determined whether the move would have any later effects on water rents.

The Ryan resolution asking for the council committee to survey street conditions and set up a system of priorities, said "the streets of the City of Kingston are in a deplorable condition."

The Satellites-III

Chahotic conditions, and the grim overcast of fear, rule today in the European countries which Stalin has turned into colonies.

Of the satellites, Poland is particularly valuable to Stalin because it provides a bridge to Germany and the riches that lie beyond. How are things in Poland today? William L. Ryan interviewed scores of persons abroad and in the United States to present below the best available information. This is the third in a series of five articles on the satellites.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
(A.P. Foreign News ANALYST)

The spark of liberty still glows in subjugated Poland.

Many a Polish peasant risks his freedom and even his life to keep the spark aglow. Many a city dweller takes a long chance to give expression to his contempt for the Communists who are Moscow's willing tools.

Against the might of Soviet arms, against an army run by Russian officers and a secret police system which honeycombs the nation with spies, the Polish resistance is pathetically weak. But it is there—and it lives in hope that some day it will have help.

For more than seven years Stalin has been twisting the screws on Poland. Transforming it into a Soviet colony. The Kremlin has installed a Soviet marshal with double Russian and Polish citizenship as its viceroy. But with each new indignity, the ancient enmity of Poles for Russians burns more fiercely.

Poles Jibe Communism

Even the kids in the streets of Polish cities reflect sullen, bitter mockery for those who are Moscow's willing tools. They sing:

"z tylu Laty, z przodu Laty,
Jestem Synem demokraty."

It's one of their own jibes directed at Communist promises. It means: "Some patches in front, some patches in back, I am the son of a democrat."

Kids still imitate American ways, to the rage of the party. They go to extremes to try to dress American style and act like Americans, and the party rants about "western decadence."

There used to be American movies in Warsaw. Now there is nothing much but Soviet propaganda. The movie houses showing the Soviet films are almost empty, except when mass attendance is ordered by the party. Even then, from the darkness of the movie house come jeers and catcalls at Moscow propaganda.

Resistance on Farms

They are still resisting on the farms. The stubborn Polish farmers shy away from collectivization. The government, fearing the consequences, must proceed slowly. Only about 5 per cent of Poland's peasants are on collective farms and 10 per cent on state farms, which are bigger. Most of these are in former German territory. To make a collective, the old houses and buildings were destroyed and the peasants were forced into the system.

They are resisting in the forests and in the factories. A guess is that 60,000 persons are actively engaged in underground work in

Oil Coordinating Committee of 22 Unions To Attend May 13 Meeting With Wage Board

Denver, May 7 (AP)—The coordinating committee of the 22 oil unions on strike in the oil industry has agreed to attend a meeting before the Wage Stabilization Board (WSB) May 13.

WSB Chairman Nathan P. Feinsinger in Washington, D. C., yesterday asked for an end to the strike and renewal of bargaining. The meeting next Tuesday will be to give the WSB a full background on the controversy.

This opened the way for speculation that the WSB, which never handles a case when a strike is in progress, will turn the oil dispute back to President Truman, who will be faced with the problem of whether to invoke the Taft-Hartley law.

This could bring about an injunction barring further striking.

It is possible bargaining for settlement with the aid of Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service would be renewed.

Several recently negotiated contracts might be considered a pattern for nationwide settlement.

O. A. Knight of Denver, president of the Oil Workers International Union (CIO) which heads the coalition of AFL, independent and CIO unions, wired Feinsinger his acceptance of the bid for the May 13 meeting, adding:

"Your request that the parties 'resume work and production immediately' is being considered by all groups involved and our reply to this request will follow at the earliest possible moment."

If the strike continues to threaten oil supplies needed by armed forces, the President could set up a fact-finding board as the first step toward an 80-day-no-strike injunction under the Taft-Hartley law.

As the strike entered its eighth day today with oil refining capacity reduced by a third, the effects were becoming more serious.

Military aviation has been curtailed and a 30 per cent reduction in aviation gasoline supplies for commercial and private flyers was ordered.

Trans-World Airlines embargoed all air freight except emergency materials.

Secretary of the Interior Chapman reiterated there will be no rationing of motor gasoline, however.

He said the next step in dealing with developing shortages will be to earmark "specified quantities of supplers' inventories for emergency use as directed by the Petroleum Administration for Defense."

Start on Trial Ordered

New York, May 7 (AP)—The extortion trial of a former tax agent and a Catskill accountant was postponed yesterday for the ninth time but a definite start was ordered June 9, by Federal Judge Gregory F. Noonan. Ernest Zelnick, 30, of Kingston, and H. Harold Miller, 42, of Catskill were charged with extorting $2,000 from Vincent Di Stefani and $1,000 from his brother, Sam, both of Cairo. Zelnick and Miller are free in $2,000 bond each.

Agreement appeared so remote the United Nations command proposed an indefinite recess of armistice talks. But full delegations will meet again tomorrow at 11 a. m. (9 p. m. Wednesday EST) at Red insistence.

Negotiators abruptly ended the secrecy which had shrouded the talks since the allied package deal was presented April 28. In Tokyo Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway promptly announced the virtual allied ultimatum. It is a three-point package:

1. The UN command would return 70,000 of 132,000 captured Chinese and North Koreans in exchange for 12,000 allied troops held by the Reds. This is the crux of the deadlock.

2. The Communists would be permitted to build and repair North Korean airfields.

3. The Reds would drop their nomination of Russia as a "neutral nation" to help police a truce.

Accepted as Whole

Ridgway said this was a package to be accepted as a whole. He said:

"Our position is one from which we cannot and shall not retreat."

The Communists turned down this package and submitted a counter offer Friday, it was disclosed. The allies rejected it.

The big issue is voluntary versus involuntary repatriation of prisoners. The UN command says only 70,000 prisoners of war and civilians said they would be willing to return to Communist territory. Others threatened suicide rather than return.

Maj. Gen. Bryan L. Milburn, in charge of prisoners, said:

"We tried to return every one of the 170,000 prisoners we hold unless they had an honest fear of returning to Communist control."

Under the Red plan the Communists would get back 132,000 prisoners in exchange for 12,000 UN POWs. The other two points would be the same as the allied plan. The Reds previously had hinted repeatedly they wanted to swap Russian supervision for the right to repair airfields.

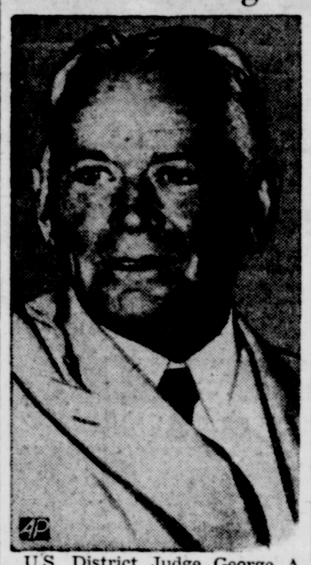

Only 70,000 Agreed

But in five days of interviewing by a crew of 200, only 70,000 prisoners of war and civilians said they would not forcibly oppose return to North Korea or Red China.

The allied package provided for neutral interviews of all un-

Gives Ruling

U.S. District Judge George A. Welsh (above) ruled in Philadelphia that the six-month-old Federal law requiring gamblers to buy $50 tax stamps was unconstitutional. He ruled the law was a police measure enacted by Congress under the guise of a tax bill. He made the ruling in dismissing charges against a man facing charges of failing to buy the federal stamp. Two More Seized In 2-State Raids By Investigators

Bistany Bail Is $100,000, That of Orfao $50,000; Lytwyn Held for $10,000

Providence, R. I., May 7 (AP)—Investigators from several police departments and FBI agents delving in the criminal activities of gangster Harvey "Mad Dog" Bistany seized two more men today in raids in Medford, Mass., and Central Falls, R. I.

Seized in his Central Falls home and booked on a charge of violating a federal bank robbery statute was Bernard R. Domanski, 31.

William Smith, 24, described as a former professional boxer, was nabbed in his Medford, Mass., home by police who also said they collected a small arsenal of weapons and burglar tools there.

Both men were arrested shortly before Bistany and two companions were arraigned on gun carrying charges in district court here and held in high bail.

Wanted for Questioning

Bistany is wanted for questioning in the $29,000 burglarly of the Brevoort branch post office in Brooklyn, N. Y., 13 months ago and several other holdups and burglaries.

Bistany, a one-eyed former boxer from Lawrence, Mass., was bound over to the Providence county grand jury after withdrawing an innocent plea and pleading guilty to a charge of carrying a concealed weapon.

District Judge Luigi de Pasquale set bail at $100,000.

Manuel J. Orfao, Jr., 35, of Dracut, Mass., pleaded guilty to carrying a pistol and was held in $50,000 for the grand jury.

Dennis Lytwyn, 30, of Fall River, Mass., pleaded innocent to carrying a concealed weapon in

The Satellites-III

Chahotic conditions, and the grim overcast of fear, rule today in the European countries which Stalin has turned into colonies.

Of the satellites, Poland is particularly valuable to Stalin because it provides a bridge to Germany and the riches that lie beyond. How are things in Poland today? William L. Ryan interviewed scores of persons abroad and in the United States to present below the best available information. This is the third in a series of five articles on the satellites.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
(A.P. Foreign News ANALYST)

The spark of liberty still glows in subjugated Poland.

Many a Polish peasant risks his freedom and even his life to keep the spark aglow. Many a city dweller takes a long chance to give expression to his contempt for the Communists who are Moscow's willing tools.

Against the might of Soviet arms, against an army run by Russian officers and a secret police system which honeycombs the nation with spies, the Polish resistance is pathetically weak. But it is there—and it lives in hope that some day it will have help.

For more than seven years Stalin has been twisting the screws on Poland. Transforming it into a Soviet colony. The Kremlin has installed a Soviet marshal with double Russian and Polish citizenship as its viceroy. But with each new indignity, the ancient enmity of Poles for Russians burns more fiercely.

Poles Jibe Communism

Even the kids in the streets of Polish cities reflect sullen, bitter mockery for those who are Moscow's willing tools. They sing:

"z tylu Laty, z przodu Laty,
Jestem Synem demokraty."

It's one of their own jibes directed at Communist promises. It means: "Some patches in front, some patches in back, I am the son of a democrat."

Kids still imitate American ways, to the rage of the party. They go to extremes to try to dress American style and act like Americans, and the party rants about "western decadence."

There used to be American movies in Warsaw. Now there is nothing much but Soviet propaganda. The movie houses showing the Soviet films are almost empty, except when mass attendance is ordered by the party. Even then, from the darkness of the movie house come jeers and catcalls at Moscow propaganda.

Resistance on Farms

They are still resisting on the farms. The stubborn Polish farmers shy away from collectivization. The government, fearing the consequences, must proceed slowly. Only about 5 per cent of Poland's peasants are on collective farms and 10 per cent on state farms, which are bigger. Most of these are in former German territory. To make a collective, the old houses and buildings were destroyed and the peasants were forced into the system.

They are resisting in the forests and in the factories. A guess is that 60,000 persons are actively engaged in underground work in

Feinsinger Fears Chaos And Strikes

WSB Chairman Thinks Situations Might Be Result of Group's Loss of Authority

Fairness Claimed

Disputes Wilson, Says Recommendations Are Consistent

Washington, May 7 (AP)—Nathan P. Feinsinger told Congress today a rash of serious strikes and industrial "chaos" may result if Congress strips the Wage Stabilization Board (WSB) of power to recommend settlements in labor disputes.

Feinsinger, chairman of the WSB, testified at the House Labor Committee's investigation of his agency. Only yesterday Charles E. Wilson, former mobilization chief who resigned in protest against administration handling of the steel labor case, had suggested to the group that the wage board's powers should be trimmed.

Wilson asserted the WSB went far beyond stabilization policy in its recommendations for a wage rise for steel workers.

Disputing that, Feinsinger said the board's recommendations were fair and were consistent with wage increases negotiated voluntarily in other industries.

Urges No Hasty Action

Feinsinger urged that Congress take no "hasty action" which he said could result in "serious consequences."

What Congress does, Feinsinger added, "may mean the difference between industrial peace and chaos in the days to come."

Feinsinger opposed the idea, often proposed in Congress, that the WSB be made up of solely public members, or that public members have an overwhelming majority.

The present 18-member board is made up of six members representing the public, six representing industry, and six representing labor.

Feinsinger said it was generally overlooked that over 90 per cent of the WSB's decisions have been unanimous, with public, labor and industry members agreeing.

Few Are 'Dispute' Cases

He said less than one per cent of the board's cases have been the so-called "dispute" cases. The remainder being wage increases negotiated by employers and unions and voluntarily and jointly submitted to the WSB for approval.

Feinsinger said he did not claim the WSB's record was "perfect by any means," but he insisted the board had been generally successful in curbing wage increases and in preserving labor peace.

"I do think it is a good record on the whole," he declared.

Center of a storm of controversy stirred up in Congress over the board's steel decision, Feinsinger went to the capitol after announcing he plans to quit his job by June 30. Feinsinger, on leave from the University of Wisconsin Law School, told an audience in Madison, Wis. Monday night he is tired and needs a rest.

The board's recommendation of a 26-cents-an-hour wage increase

Bequest of $5,000 Made to City 'Lab'; $30,000 Permitted

Aldermen Vote in Favor of Developing Two Streets in New Housing Area

A bequest of $5,000 to the City of Kingston Laboratory was accepted and $30,000 was authorized for street development of Dietz Court and Melvin Drive, (the Singer & Greene project) through Common Council legislation last night.

The aldermen also considered new traffic proposals for regulating traffic after the Broadway underpass is opened, accepted the Board of Education Budget for filing, and considered several claims including one by Elmer Carney, of Florence street extension, which was the subject of heated argument.

The $5,000 bequest was made in the will of Elsa Mason Lord Peabody, and a letter from Corporation Counsel James G. Connelly explained that the executrix wished to get a receipt and release.

Will Bind Books

A resolution was necessary to accept the money and direct its deposit in a special bank account, the corporation counsel said, and after the reading of another letter from Dr. Herbert Derman, director of the laboratory, the aldermen voted to approve the use of $1,000 immediately "for the binding of a large backlog of medical journals in the library."

Dr. Derman's letter said that the laboratory's Board of Managers had requested that the "money be set aside for use of the medical library as a fitting and proper memorial to our benefactor."

The letter also explained that interest on the remaining $4,000 would be used annually to bind

Aldermen Request Reason on Leaving Police Posts Vacant

Call on Police and Civil Service Boards for 'Official Word' on Captaincy Cut

A seven-point resolution asking explanation of the discontinuance of the positions of police captain and detective in the city was adopted by the Common Council last night.

The resolution, offered by Third Ward Alderman Edwin Radel, was seconded by Seventh Ward Alderman Thomas Coughlin, and adopted unanimously, with one alderman, Fifth Ward Samuel J. Perry absent.

The salary for the rank of captain was provided for in the 1952 budget, the resolution said, and the police board "and/or the civil service board published the fact that a vacancy was to be filled and an examination was held.

Call Report Unofficial

All interested, eligible patrolmen and officers paid fees for the examination and there existed "in all ranks the anticipation of potential promotions." The last published word on the subject, it said, was "an unofficial report," telling of the abolishment of the position.

The resolution asked that the council "vote as a body to demand from the Civil Service Commission the full and authentic facts and reason for:

1. Publishing a notice of the vacancy to be filled.
2. Holding examinations for all ranks.
3. Publishing a list of eligible contenders.
4. Unofficially declaring the vacancy abolished.
5. The status of the police department as individuals as to the marks they made.
6. The reason for not filling the

City Water Fund Taken For Purpose

Kelly Refers Resolution on Survey to BPW for Action—Property Sale Proposed

$75,000 Allotted

Public Works Board Has Money to Use Upon Street Construction

The Common Council on recommendation of Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk last night authorized transferring $50,000 from a water department surplus for repairing city streets.

The vote with Fifth Ward Alderman Samuel J. Perry absent, was unanimous, and a resolution by Tenth Ward Alderman James K. Ryan suggestiong a council committee to make a survey of street conditions and "set up a system of priorities," was referred to the Board of Public Works by Alderman-at-Large Joseph Kelly.

The water board surplus, it was learned today, was about $105,000 as of last Dec. 31, and the current surplus is about $68,000.

Mayor Newkirk's letter to the council said the city is facing a serious condition where its highway system is concerned and the past winter was more destructive than anticipated when the 1952 budget was prepared.

Calls It Insufficient

The amount appropriated, he said, was insufficient to do the work necessary to repair the winter damage and "to protect the city's huge investment in street pavements."

Bonds cannot be authorized for street repair work, but only for "major street construction," he stressed, and "our people are demanding that our street system be placed in good condition."

The mayor said he know of no other method to meet this demand "than to appropriate any city surpluses which may be available to the Department of Public Works for street work."

Only Surplus Found

The letter said an examination had been made of city departments and a surplus was found only in the water department.

This he said, "represents money paid by the taxpayers of our city over the cost of operation of that department, and may be used for any lawful municipal purpose upon your approval."

In his annual message, the mayor said, he suggested to the water board that consideration be given "to the sale by that board of valuable surplus properties in the town of Woodstock no longer used for water purposes, and on which the city is paying a substantial amount in taxes to the town of Woodstock."

The money from such a sale, the mayor proposed be made available for street maintenance purposes.

Has Not Acted

"I regret that up to date," he said, "the board has shown no disposition to follow this suggestion which would have permitted the city to undertake a most substantial street program."

In view of these circumstances, he said, he recommended that the council transfer $50,000 from water board funds "and that such funds be appropriated to the BPW for street maintenance and repair."

Alderman Ryan, the only one to comment, said that $50,000 seemed a large sum to take from any one department and he suggested it be determined whether the move would have any later effects on water rents.

The Ryan resolution asking for the council committee to survey street conditions and set up a system of priorities, said "the streets of the City of Kingston are in a deplorable condition."

Oil Coordinating Committee of 22 Unions To Attend May 13 Meeting With Wage Board

Denver, May 7 (AP)—The coordinating committee of the 22 oil unions on strike in the oil industry has agreed to attend a meeting before the Wage Stabilization Board (WSB) May 13.

WSB Chairman Nathan P. Feinsinger in Washington, D. C., yesterday asked for an end to the strike and renewal of bargaining. The meeting next Tuesday will be to give the WSB a full background on the controversy.

This opened the way for speculation that the WSB, which never handles a case when a strike is in progress, will turn the oil dispute back to President Truman, who will be faced with the problem of whether to invoke the Taft-Hartley law.

This could bring about an injunction barring further striking.

It is possible bargaining for settlement with the aid of Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service would be renewed.

Several recently negotiated contracts might be considered a pattern for nationwide settlement.

O. A. Knight of Denver, president of the Oil Workers International Union (CIO) which heads the coalition of AFL, independent and CIO unions, wired Feinsinger his acceptance of the bid for the May 13 meeting, adding:

"Your request that the parties 'resume work and production immediately' is being considered by all groups involved and our reply to this request will follow at the earliest possible moment."

If the strike continues to threaten oil supplies needed by armed forces, the President could set up a fact-finding board as the first step toward an 80-day-no-strike injunction under the Taft-Hartley law.

As the strike entered its eighth day today with oil refining capacity reduced by a third, the effects were becoming more serious.

Military aviation has been curtailed and a 30 per cent reduction in aviation gasoline supplies for commercial and private flyers was ordered.

Trans-World Airlines embargoed all air freight except emergency materials.

Secretary of the Interior Chapman reiterated there will be no rationing of motor gasoline, however.

He said the next step in dealing with developing shortages will be to earmark "specified quantities of suppliers' inventories for emergency use as directed by the Petroleum Administration for Defense."

Start on Trial Ordered

New York, May 7 (AP)—The extortion trial of a former tax agent and a Catskill accountant was postponed yesterday for the ninth time but a definite start was ordered June 9, by Federal Judge Gregory F. Noonan. Ernest Zelnick, 30, of Kingston, and H. Harold Miller, 42, of Catskill were charged with extorting $2,000 from Vincent Di Stefani and $1,000 from his brother, Sam, both of Cairo. Zelnick and Miller are free in $2,000 bond each.

TAFT FORCES ON DEFENSIVE

In advance of the Massachusetts primary, Senator Taft declared it would be a "fair test." There is considerable reason to believe it was just that, and the result demonstrated that General Eisenhower was the overwhelming choice of those who cast Republican ballots.

The general's total, in excess of 245,000 votes, was the largest write-in ever recorded by any candidate anywhere. It surpassed the peak established only a week before by Taft in Pennsylvania—173,000.

In the matter of delegates, Eisenhower captured 27 of 28 GOP seats in 14 districts and is assured of at least two of the 10 at-large delegates. Taft spokesmen in the state indicated they would not be happy with winning less than 12 of the 28 district spots.

The factors which made Massachusetts a reasonably fair test were these:

Neither Taft nor Eisenhower was on the ballot. Both had to be written in.

Neither candidate had the benefit of an incumbent state administration which could throw powerful strength one way or the other.

An active campaign was made on behalf of both men. Taft carried his own case to the Massachusetts voters, and Eisenhower's was borne by a number of the leading figures in his camp.

Eisenhower had the advantages that went with the support of both Massachusetts senators—Lodge, his campaign manager, and Saltonstall. But several prominent Republicans in the state favored Taft.

This is the balanced part of the picture. But despite the fact that Taft and a lot of others considered the equalizing factors predominant, it is only proper to point out one major disadvantage the senator confronted. Massachusetts, like other eastern seaboard states, has a heavy tilt toward the internationalist viewpoint. And this whole region has not proved top Taft territory.

Eisenhower earlier had triumphed in New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York and Maine, and had rolled up a big popular victory in Pennsylvania even though not collecting that state's delegates (they are largely uncommitted).

As this was Taft's drawback in the east, so it was Eisenhower's that midwestern states like Nebraska and Illinois are strongholds of isolationist feeling.

In the end, however, Eisenhower's Massachusetts victory should not be minimized. For his obvious strength in the east cannot be overlooked by a party which needs a tremendous pile-up of electrol votes next November to balance the inevitable southern and southwestern backlog the Democrats can command.

The Massachusetts result pushes Taft into something of a defensive position. It now remains to be seen whether by his late-season performance in Ohio, West Virginia and South Dakota he can regain an offensive posture.

GREATEST OCEAN DEPTH

The deepest part of the ocean has just been found. The British vessel Challenger, which has been plumbing the Pacific, finds a depth of 35,232 feet some 200 miles southwest of Guam. The deepest stretch previously known was the Mindanao Trench in the Philippine waters, which was 34,440 feet. Both are deep enough to swallow up the world highest peak, Mt. Everest in the Himalayas, which is 29,141 feet high and leave never a trace.

What a wonderful place—after the Grand Canyon has been filled to the brim with discarded razor blades—to sink all the rest of the junk in the world!

The Russians now say they would like to unify Germany. Probably the same way they unified Poland, Hungary, Czechoslovakia and all the other satellites.

The person who doesn't stand for something will fall for anything.

Statistics show that Americans saved more money in 1951 than they did in any previous year. It certainly came in handy, too, for paying this year's taxes.

Memorizing the golden rule has merit. Applying it has more.

DEMOCRATIC REPUBLICANS

Two theories appear concerning the widespread participation of Democrats in the Republican primaries:

1. That the Republicans cannot elect a President without the aid of Democrats or "independent" voters. Therefore, the activity of Democrats, wherever lawful, in Republican primaries foretells the election of the Republican candidate who can attract to himself Democratic voters;

2. That the Democrats have devised a means for nullifying the Republican primaries, so that the Republican candidate is chosen not by his partisans but by those who seek his defeat on election day.

Theory No. 1 represents the Eisenhower position; theory No. 2, the Taft position.

Across both runs the disclosure of Sam Rosenman that Franklin D. Roosevelt and Wendell Willkie were developing plans for a coalition party under their apparent joint leadership. It could only be apparent, not real, because as Roosevelt was actually in the White House, he would be the top man in such an arrangement and the Willkie Republicans would necessarily have been absorbed by the Roosevelt New Dealers. It was a plan for the obliteration of the Republican Party.

Again, it must be borne in mind that the original Eisenhower supporters planned for him to be nominated by both the Democratic and Republican parties. General Eisenhower is reported to have told General MacArthur in Tokyo that he expected to be nominated by both parties. At that time, the principal manager of General Eisenhower's boom was George Allen, Democrat and associate of Harry Truman. The plan seems to have been a continuation of the Roosevelt-Willkie scheme for the capture of the Republican Party by the Democrats by infiltration and absorption.

Further, in the development of this plan is the enervating slogan: "Taft is the best man, but he cannot win." As the Republicans have not won an election since 1932, this slogan, widespread and continuous in its use, has frightened many Republicans who would prefer to win under any circumstances. The slogan has encouraged many Republicans to believe or hope that if they had a candidate for whom Democrats would vote, they could win at long last. Even if the Presidential candidate were not quite a partisan, the Senate and House would become Republican as the result of a landslide.

The direction of these movements is toward a one-party system such as Mussolini developed in Italy, Hitler in Germany, and such as now exists in each of the Soviet countries. There is nothing sacrosanct about the two party system, except that it actually serves the people better than the multi-party arrangement, such as exists in France where governments, topple overnight, or the one-party system which enslaves the whole people to a self-perpetuating elite.

In this country, the two-party system has been developed to a greater efficiency than anywhere else, for the opposition party not only is capable of forcing the majority to disclose its purposes and activities to the people, but by minority representation on the committees of both houses of Congress, the minority party is never without responsibility.

The reduction of the two-party system to a farce, as it must be when the members of one party vote in the primaries of the other party, could, in time, alter the political procedures of the country by making, let us say, Republican candidates for a nomination dependent upon Democrats. It is like boss Hague of New Jersey selecting, in the good old days, both the Democratic and Republican candidates for governor—so that no matter who won, Hague managed.

When it is coarsely stated in terms of a Hague overlordship, it is reprehensible to most Americans. But when the process is refined into Democrats voting in the Republican primaries, it does not appear to be so offensive. Actually it is worse, for it involves a subversion of the concept of the primary.

The trend among bankers and big business men to support a one-party system is characteristic of their revolt against the professional politician, who is no longer dependent upon them for funds. Democratic politicians get their money from labor unions and liberals; Republicans find campaign funds more readily in the middle West and in Texas than Wall Street and Pittsburgh. The bankers and business men therefore seek a coalition of influence, which can be a one-party system set up by them.

Their error is that Fascism is an abhorrent to the American people as Communism.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

WE ALL NEED TO RELAX

Trainers of boxers or other athletes will tell you that when they find their charge becoming irritable, they know that he has reached the peak of condition and must not engage in work or exercise too hard or too long or he will go stale. They try then to get him to relax, do lighter work and thus not take the edge off his condition.

The rules that govern athletes and keep them on their toes and yet relaxed are what the whole world needs today. As stated often before, it is tenseness that tires us even when we think we are resting and relaxed.

In his book "You Must Relax," Dr. Edmund Jacobson, in regard to the complete relaxation which induces sleep, states "the best position for the average person until he becomes expert is flat on his back, that is, he faces the ceiling. The reason for not lying on one side (as most of us do) or with the chest down is that generally such positions involve strain on some part of the body. Each arm in its entire length rests directly on the couch in such a way that the hand is at least several inches from the leg. Folding the hands is avoided since it gives rise to sensations of contact that give slight disturbance. Accordingly each portion of the body is supported practically directly by the couch."

While the above suggestions should be followed by the beginner, Dr. Jacobson states that it should be emphasized that relaxation can be achieved in any ordinary position. Persons who are learning to relax while lying on the back need not hesitate to go to sleep in any other position to which they are accustomed. Lying on the back quietly with eyes open and assuming a comfortable position, he should look at the ceiling for three or four minutes, then closing eyes lightly, he should relax each part of his body in turn till he is completely relaxed. Sometimes tensing muscles first, then completely relaxing them is the best method.

Remember, keeping relaxed induces sleep, and even if you do not sleep, but keep relaxed, the effect is equal to 80% of the effect of sleep, that is, from the standpoint of heart rate, blood pressure and temperature. The knowledge that relaxation is almost as good as sleep often brings on sleep.

Permanent Temptation

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington — Now that the steel mills are running again, some administration leaders are canvassing means of winding up the entire mess by giving the steel industry a moderate price increase in order to take care of a wage increase.

Several cabinet members privately have long favored such a plan, especially Secretary of Defense Lovett. John Steelman, the acting defense mobilizer, once also definitely favored a $5-a-ton price increase for steel, as did Charles E. Wilson.

However, each move in this direction has run up against the quiet, adamant opposition of an ex-governor from Georgia, Price Administrator Ellis Arnall.

And Arnall flatly refuses to budge.

At one White House meeting held just before the President seized the steel industry, various cabinet members were urging a moderate price increase in steel prices as a sop to the industry.

"You can increase 'em all right," drawled Arnall good-naturedly. "You can increase 'em if you want to wreck the country."

Arnall wasn't mad a bit. He even sounded as if he was half kidding. But those who know him realized that he was deadly serious, especially when he added:

"You can increase 'em all right. But you'll have to get yourselves a new price administrator."

Steel Profits

The quiet threat of Arnall's resignation was enough to stop further discussion. Furthermore, he was backed up by his immediate superior, Roger Putnam, a manufacturer from Springfield, Mass., who knows what it's like to make a profit and meet a payroll.

Arnall also produced figures showing that the steel industry could pay the package wage increase recommended by the Wage Stabilization Board and yet reduce its profits only 12 cents a ton under the high profit base from 1946 to 1949—after taxes. Arnall likewise showed that the steel industry, after paying the wage increase, and after paying taxes, would have a profit of only 60 cents a ton less than its record-breaking profits during the year 1951 when steel dividends soared to an all-time high as a result of the Korean war.

He argued that the steel industry should not make money at the expense of the Korean War. He also pointed out that these profits were after taxes.

The steel industry has not challenged Arnall's figures.

Steel Merry-Go-Round

When news of the Court of Appeals decision first reached the White House, Justice Department officials wanted to get out an injunction against the steelworkers, forcing them to go back to work. Solicitor General Philip Perlman and Holmes Baldridge, assistant attorney general, both argued that the workers were striking against the government....Secretary of Commerce Sawyer, however, opposed. He warned that the Appeals Court decision favoring the government was too slender a margin to get out an injunction

Justice Department officials then proposed that labor be offered an immediate wage increase. This Secretary Sawyer also opposed. "We ought not to buy 'em back," he claimed....As a result, Truman issued his midnight appeal to Phil Murray—which worked....The President has asked acting Attorney General Perlman to submit a full report on how the Taft-Hartley Act could be used—if necessary. Originally Truman was leery about using his "inherent" powers to seize the steel mills....Charlie Murphy, White House counsel, at one time advised the President to make a strong speech to a joint session of Congress, urging legislation empowering him to take over any vital industry threatened with a shutdown during an emergency. Truman finally rejected this idea, figuring the Dixiecrat coalition would block it.

Oil Negotiations

The oil strike would have been speedily settled last week, with very little loss in production, but for two backstage factors.

No. 1—Was the clamoring of Congressional anti-laborities, fired up by the steel strike, for legislation outlawing all shutdowns in emergency periods. This suddenly stiffened the backs of oil-company spokesmen who were close to a wage agreement with CIO, AFL and independent oil unions.

No. 2—Was the backstage kibitzing of powerful Standard Oil of New Jersey, which had settled with its independent union workers for an approximate 10 cents an hour basic wage boost (plus extra pay for night shifts) and didn't want the rest of the industry to go any higher.

At one stage of the negotiations several big companies, including Standard Oil of Indiana, Continental, Phillips Petroleum and Pan-Am Southern Oil, upped their original offer of about 10 cents an hour (basic) for their employes to approximately 15 cents an hour.

These companies were also offering 6 cents an hour additional to workers on the second shift and 12 cents more for third-shift workmen.

O. A. (Jack) Knight, president of the CIO Oil Workers and chief union negotiator, had lowered the unions' demand for a 25 cents an hour increase down to 20 cents and it looked like a settlement was imminent somewhere between 15 and 20 cents, plus the shift differentials.

In fact, word was flashed back to Washington from bargaining stations throughout the country that an agreement was near and that 90,000 striking refinery workers, drillers, rig-builders, etc., would be back on the job in a matter of hours.

But just at that point congressional anti-laborites, led by Howard Smith of Virginia, got into the act. Suddenly federal mediators noted an uncompromising frigidity in the once-friendly bargaining sessions.

Standard Oil of New Jersey was quick to seize on this psychological advantage and grapevined word to settlement-minded companies that they would be foolish to make an agreement for more than 10 cents until they knew what Congress would do about strike legislation.

Naturally, if other oil workers got more than 10 cents, Standard would have to reopen negotiations with its independent union employes.

Too Much Fluoride

Tokyo (AP) — Japan is one country where they don't have to add fluoride to the water to stop tooth decay. The welfare ministry says Japanese in 42 of Japan's 46 prefectures are drinking water with too much fluoride with the result that many have mottled teeth. Japanese scientists did not find this out, however, until the government actually began a project in Kyoto Prefecture to add fluoride to drinking water. Scientists blame the fluoride condition of the water on Japanese volcanoes.

Appointment of Partisans Is Viewed as Situation Closely Approximating Scandal

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, May 7—Something approaching a scandal has been slowly developing in recent years through the appointment of persons to quasi-judicial boards and commissions who are supposed to represent the "public" as impartial members but who actually are avowed partisans in behalf of "left wing" ideology.

Congress has been delegating to boards and commissions the power to write regulations and decide issues of vital importance to the public. If these boards are stacked, it's just like playing with loaded dice.

The latest episode which has attracted attention relates to the so-called "public" members of the Wage Stabilization Board and its panels which make "recommendations" in wage disputes. Clarence Randall, head of Inland Steel Company, told a nation-wide radio audience that the "public" members of the board which sided with labor in deciding the steel case were beholden to the labor unions—in fact, at times had performed professional services for which they were paid by labor organizations. This was promptly denied with the statement that these professional arbitrators who had served in labor cases had been paid, as usual, by both sides. But what is not generally realized is that their opportunity to continue as labor arbitrators in case after case is directly related to their known willingness to decide issues on the labor-union side. The employers often are confronted with such a narrow choice that they feel they cannot continue to object to the names submitted to them because the strike weapon is held over them, and often, despite their protests, the government goes ahead and appoints them anyway.

In the case of the Wage Stabilization Board, the appointments were made by a political president who doesn't have to consult employers when he makes such selections. The "public" members of the Wage Stabilization Board are men of integrity but nearly all of them are steeped in the ideology of labor unions. There is a large number of college professors who are confiscationists at heart. They do not know the first thing about the obligations of those who borrow money or who, in good faith, take from investors money for risk capital. The "left winger" doesn't worry if the large companies fail to make an adequate profit to pay the wages of investors. If by chance the companies should go to the wall, the same "left wing" group would be advocating government ownership or nationalization. Fundamentally, the virus of Socialism is deeply imbedded in the "left wing" group and it is out of that category that the late President Roosevelt and now Mr. Truman have made selections whenever there are presidential boards to be appointed in economic disputes.

There is no practical way by which Congress can prevent this abuse of the appointive power. Many of the boards, like the Wage Stabilization Board, are not even provided for by law. They admittedly have no statutory sanction. But when they make "recommendations," the labor unions regard them as final, the President takes over the plants and then threatens to put into the effect the "recommendations" of the presidentially appointed board—the "packed" court.

It's a game which the public hasn't observed too carefully heretofore but, now that the abuse of power in the steel controversy has been revealed, it is bound to occupy the attention of Congress as well as the courts. Congress is to some extent at fault for failing to spell out executive powers and for allowing many appointments to presidential boards which have the power of life death over American enterprises to be made without authority of law and without confirmation by the Senate.

The real blame for the presence on government boards of biased members is unquestionably on the shoulders of President Truman. The best evidence of the prevalent belief that the CIO controls the White House and usually has Mr. Truman in its corner in its economic battles is to be found in a United Press dispatch last month which reads as follows:

"Pittsburg, March 27—A top official of the CIO United Steelworkers said today that the union was in a 'particularly fortunate' position in its wage dispute with the steel industry 'because we have a rather friendly gentleman in the White House.'

"David J. McDonald, USW secretary-treasurer, told the Pennsylvania CIO Convention that if Sen. Robert A. Taft were president, instead of President Truman, 'our lawyers would be in Federal Court right today fighting against issuance of an injunction'."

Yet the Taft-Hartley Law does provide for injunctions when major labor disputes are threatened. So the CIO expects Mr. Truman, in return for the political support they have heretofore given, to ignore his oath to uphold the constitution, which orders that he "shall take care that the laws be faithfully executed."

There's the explanation for much of the internal trouble in America today.

Do You Remember

By SOPHIE MILLER

I received a very pretty note from Mrs. Geo. Magley of 61 East Chester street. The stationery was of sky blue with a white carnation. She writes: "I do hope that sometime during month of May you will publish in your column Henry Abbey's lovely poem, 'May in Kingston.' I contacted one member of the 300th Anniversary Committee thinking it might be published in the tercentenary book, but it had already gone to print. That poem is so lovely and tells so much about Kingston. Mr. Abbey as you know lived in Kingston. I have a copy of his book of poems which he gave (autographed) to my sister, Elizabeth McKern in 1909."

I would like to see that poem, and if it is not too long perhaps can use it. I think there is a portrait in oils of Kingston Poet Abbey in our city library. Miss Schaffer I think knew him personally. That painting, I was told was painted by the famous John Vanderlyn's nephew, also a John Vanderlyn. Mrs. Irene K. Blass has sent me poetry from time to time and I have been able to use them. She is very clever at taking local historical events and combining them into poetry.

Well it looks like the fate of Kingston Point Park is sealed to never again re-open as a park. It was sad news to read. But of course commerce comes first, without it there are no cities, no streets, no lights, no houses, no improvements, no bread on the table. I drove down there just once this spring and found a number of cars there with folks admiring the river.

I had two charming visitors the other day. Mrs. Leona Hermance of 149 Prospect street and Mrs. Nicols. Mrs. Hermance's family first settled in Willow and she wanted to know if I had anything on the history of Willow. I referred her to Mrs. Bruno Zimm, president of the Woodstock Historical Society of Woodstock. Perhaps Mrs. Zimm can help her out. Mrs. Hermance also told me that she has a collection of over 350 sets of salt and pepper shakers, all different. They were sent or brought to her from different parts of the world. She has some very old ones too. Mrs. Nichols comes from West Shokan and remembers Bernard Austin Dwyer, who used to be "Josh"on my radio skit, "Soph and Josh." She said he was a great reader. Not only was the late "Josh" a great reader but he had a wonderful memory. He could memorize long poems and passages from books for ever so long.

When I ride by Schumann's corner I often think of the white wooden horse that used to stand there. I wonder what happened to it. I see in the Eddyville news of 1897, that George Schumann gave his daughter, Lena and son, Charles Von Beck Schumann, handsome Victor bicycles. It was said that there were over 100 bicycles in Eddyville alone. Those were the days when Schumann Hotel was flourishing and back in 1897 the whole interior was freshly painted and decorated. I think a drive around Eddyville on a warm spring day is as pleasant and picturesque as can be found anywhere in this country.

The direction of these movements is toward a one-party system such as Mussolini developed in Italy, Hitler in Germany, and such as now exists in each of the Soviet countries. There is nothing sacrosanct about the two party system, except that it actually serves the people better than the multi-party arrangement, such as exists in France where governments, topple overnight, or the one-party system which enslaves the whole people to a self-perpetuating elite.

In this country, the two-party system has been developed to a greater efficiency than anywhere else, for the opposition party not only is capable of forcing the majority to disclose its purposes and activities to the people, but by minority representation on the committees of both houses of Congress, the minority party is never without responsibility.

The reduction of the two-party system to a farce, as it must be when the members of one party vote in the primaries of the other party, could, in time, alter the political procedures of the country by making, let us say, Republican candidates for a nomination dependent upon Democrats. It is like boss Hague of New Jersey selecting, in the good old days, both the Democratic and Republican candidates for governor—so that no matter who won, Hague managed.

When it is coarsely stated in terms of a Hague overlordship, it is reprehensible to most Americans. But when the process is refined into Democrats voting in the Republican primaries, it does not appear to be so offensive. Actually it is worse, for it involves a subversion of the concept of the primary.

The trend among bankers and big business men to support a one-party system is characteristic of their revolt against the professional politician, who is no longer dependent upon them for funds. Democratic politicians get their money from labor unions and liberals; Republicans find campaign funds more readily in the middle West and in Texas than Wall Street and Pittsburgh. The bankers and business men therefore seek a coalition of influence, which can be a one-party system set up by them.

Their error is that Fascism is an abhorrent to the American people as Communism.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

WE ALL NEED TO RELAX

Trainers of boxers or other athletes will tell you that when they find their charge becoming irritable, they know that he has reached the peak of condition and must not engage in work or exercise too hard or too long or he will go stale. They try then to get him to relax, do lighter work and thus not take the edge off his condition.

The rules that govern athletes and keep them on their toes and yet relaxed are what the whole world needs today. As stated often before, it is tenseness that tires us even when we think we are resting and relaxed.

In his book "You Must Relax," Dr. Edmund Jacobson, in regard to the complete relaxation which induces sleep, states "the best position for the average person until he becomes expert is flat on his back, that is, he faces the ceiling. The reason for not lying on one side (as most of us do) or with the chest down is that generally such positions involve strain on some part of the body. Each arm in its entire length rests directly on the couch in such a way that the hand is at least several inches from the leg. Folding the hands is avoided since it gives rise to sensations of contact that give slight disturbance. Accordingly each portion of the body is supported practically directly by the couch."

While the above suggestions should be followed by the beginner, Dr. Jacobson states that it should be emphasized that relaxation can be achieved in any ordinary position. Persons who are learning to relax while lying on the back need not hesitate to go to sleep in any other position to which they are accustomed. Lying on the back quietly with eyes open and assuming a comfortable position, he should look at the ceiling for three or four minutes, then closing eyes lightly, he should relax each part of his body in turn till he is completely relaxed. Sometimes tensing muscles first, then completely relaxing them is the best method.

Remember, keeping relaxed induces sleep, and even if you do not sleep, but keep relaxed, the effect is equal to 80% of the effect of sleep, that is, from the standpoint of heart rate, blood pressure and temperature. The knowledge that relaxation is almost as good as sleep often brings on sleep.

Permanent Temptation

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington — Now that the steel mills are running again, some administration leaders are canvassing means of winding up the entire mess by giving the steel industry a moderate price increase in order to take care of a wage increase.

Several cabinet members privately have long favored such a plan, especially Secretary of Defense Lovett. John Steelman, the acting defense mobilizer, once also definitely favored a $5-a-ton price increase for steel, as did Charles E. Wilson.

However, each move in this direction has run up against the quiet, adamant opposition of an ex-governor from Georgia, Price Administrator Ellis Arnall.

And Arnall flatly refuses to budge.

At one White House meeting held just before the President seized the steel industry, various cabinet members were urging a moderate price increase in steel prices as a sop to the industry.

"You can increase 'em all right," drawled Arnall good-naturedly. "You can increase 'em if you want to wreck the country."

Arnall wasn't mad a bit. He even sounded as if he was half kidding. But those who know him realized that he was deadly serious, especially when he added:

"You can increase 'em all right. But you'll have to get yourselves a new price administrator."

Steel Profits

The quiet threat of Arnall's resignation was enough to stop further discussion. Furthermore, he was backed up by his immediate superior, Roger Putnam, a manufacturer from Springfield, Mass., who knows what it's like to make a profit and meet a payroll.

Arnall also produced figures showing that the steel industry could pay the package wage increase recommended by the Wage Stabilization Board and yet reduce its profits only 12 cents a ton under the high profit base from 1946 to 1949—after taxes. Arnall likewise showed that the steel industry, after paying the wage increase, and after paying taxes, would have a profit of only 60 cents a ton less than its record-breaking profits during the year 1951 when steel dividends soared to an all-time high as a result of the Korean war.

He argued that the steel industry should not make money at the expense of the Korean War. He also pointed out that these profits were after taxes.

The steel industry has not challenged Arnall's figures.

Steel Merry-Go-Round

When news of the Court of Appeals decision first reached the White House, Justice Department officials wanted to get out an injunction against the steelworkers, forcing them to go back to work. Solicitor General Philip Perlman and Holmes Baldridge, assistant attorney general, both argued that the workers were striking against the government....Secretary of Commerce Sawyer, however, opposed. He warned that the Appeals Court decision favoring the government was too slender a margin to get out an injunction

Justice Department officials then proposed that labor be offered an immediate wage increase. This Secretary Sawyer also opposed. "We ought not to buy 'em back," he claimed....As a result, Truman issued his midnight appeal to Phil Murray—which worked....The President has asked acting Attorney General Perlman to submit a full report on how the Taft-Hartley Act could be used—if necessary. Originally Truman was leery about using his "inherent" powers to seize the steel mills....Charlie Murphy, White House counsel, at one time advised the President to make a strong speech to a joint session of Congress, urging legislation empowering him to take over any vital industry threatened with a shutdown during an emergency. Truman finally rejected this idea, figuring the Dixiecrat coalition would block it.

Oil Negotiations

The oil strike would have been speedily settled last week, with very little loss in production, but for two backstage factors.

No. 1—Was the clamoring of Congressional anti-laborities, fired up by the steel strike, for legislation outlawing all shutdowns in emergency periods. This suddenly stiffened the backs of oil-company spokesmen who were close to a wage agreement with CIO, AFL and independent oil unions.

No. 2—Was the backstage kibitzing of powerful Standard Oil of New Jersey, which had settled with its independent union workers for an approximate 10 cents an hour basic wage boost (plus extra pay for night shifts) and didn't want the rest of the industry to go any higher.

At one stage of the negotiations several big companies, including Standard Oil of Indiana, Continental, Phillips Petroleum and Pan-Am Southern Oil, upped their original offer of about 10 cents an hour (basic) for their employes to approximately 15 cents an hour.

These companies were also offering 6 cents an hour additional to workers on the second shift and 12 cents more for third-shift workmen.

O. A. (Jack) Knight, president of the CIO Oil Workers and chief union negotiator, had lowered the unions' demand for a 25 cents an hour increase down to 20 cents and it looked like a settlement was imminent somewhere between 15 and 20 cents, plus the shift differentials.

In fact, word was flashed back to Washington from bargaining stations throughout the country that an agreement was near and that 90,000 striking refinery workers, drillers, rig-builders, etc., would be back on the job in a matter of hours.

But just at that point congressional anti-laborites, led by Howard Smith of Virginia, got into the act. Suddenly federal mediators noted an uncompromising frigidity in the once-friendly bargaining sessions.

Standard Oil of New Jersey was quick to seize on this psychological advantage and grapevined word to settlement-minded companies that they would be foolish to make an agreement for more than 10 cents until they knew what Congress would do about strike legislation.

Naturally, if other oil workers got more than 10 cents, Standard would have to reopen negotiations with its independent union employes.

Too Much Fluoride

Tokyo (AP) — Japan is one country where they don't have to add fluoride to the water to stop tooth decay. The welfare ministry says Japanese in 42 of Japan's 46 prefectures are drinking water with too much fluoride with the result that many have mottled teeth. Japanese scientists did not find this out, however, until the government actually began a project in Kyoto Prefecture to add fluoride to drinking water. Scientists blame the fluoride condition of the water on Japanese volcanoes.

Appointment of Partisans Is Viewed as Situation Closely Approximating Scandal

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, May 7—Something approaching a scandal has been slowly developing in recent years through the appointment of persons to quasi-judicial boards and commissions who are supposed to represent the "public" as impartial members but who actually are avowed partisans in behalf of "left wing" ideology.

Congress has been delegating to boards and commissions the power to write regulations and decide issues of vital importance to the public. If these boards are stacked, it's just like playing with loaded dice.

The latest episode which has attracted attention relates to the so-called "public" members of the Wage Stabilization Board and its panels which make "recommendations" in wage disputes. Clarence Randall, head of Inland Steel Company, told a nation-wide radio audience that the "public" members of the board which sided with labor in deciding the steel case were beholden to the labor unions—in fact, at times had performed professional services for which they were paid by labor organizations. This was promptly denied with the statement that these professional arbitrators who had served in labor cases had been paid, as usual, by both sides. But what is not generally realized is that their opportunity to continue as labor arbitrators in case after case is directly related to their known willingness to decide issues on the labor-union side. The employers often are confronted with such a narrow choice that they feel they cannot continue to object to the names submitted to them because the strike weapon is held over them, and often, despite their protests, the government goes ahead and appoints them anyway.

In the case of the Wage Stabilization Board, the appointments were made by a political president who doesn't have to consult employers when he makes such selections. The "public" members of the Wage Stabilization Board are men of integrity but nearly all of them are steeped in the ideology of labor unions. There is a large number of college professors who are confiscationists at heart. They do not know the first thing about the obligations of those who borrow money or who, in good faith, take from investors money for risk capital. The "left winger" doesn't worry if the large companies fail to make an adequate profit to pay the wages of investors. If by chance the companies should go to the wall, the same "left wing" group would be advocating government ownership or nationalization. Fundamentally, the virus of Socialism is deeply imbedded in the "left wing" group and it is out of that category that the late President Roosevelt and now Mr. Truman have made selections whenever there are presidential boards to be appointed in economic disputes.

There is no practical way by which Congress can prevent this abuse of the appointive power. Many of the boards, like the Wage Stabilization Board, are not even provided for by law. They admittedly have no statutory sanction. But when they make "recommendations," the labor unions regard them as final, the President takes over the plants and then threatens to put into the effect the "recommendations" of the presidentially appointed board—the "packed" court.

It's a game which the public hasn't observed too carefully heretofore but, now that the abuse of power in the steel controversy has been revealed, it is bound to occupy the attention of Congress as well as the courts. Congress is to some extent at fault for failing to spell out executive powers and for allowing many appointments to presidential boards which have the power of life death over American enterprises to be made without authority of law and without confirmation by the Senate.

The real blame for the presence on government boards of biased members is unquestionably on the shoulders of President Truman. The best evidence of the prevalent belief that the CIO controls the White House and usually has Mr. Truman in its corner in its economic battles is to be found in a United Press dispatch last month which reads as follows:

"Pittsburg, March 27—A top official of the CIO United Steelworkers said today that the union was in a 'particularly fortunate' position in its wage dispute with the steel industry 'because we have a rather friendly gentleman in the White House.'

"David J. McDonald, USW secretary-treasurer, told the Pennsylvania CIO Convention that if Sen. Robert A. Taft were president, instead of President Truman, 'our lawyers would be in Federal Court right today fighting against issuance of an injunction'."

Yet the Taft-Hartley Law does provide for injunctions when major labor disputes are threatened. So the CIO expects Mr. Truman, in return for the political support they have heretofore given, to ignore his oath to uphold the constitution, which orders that he "shall take care that the laws be faithfully executed."

There's the explanation for much of the internal trouble in America today.

Do You Remember

By SOPHIE MILLER

I received a very pretty note from Mrs. Geo. Magley of 61 East Chester street. The stationery was of sky blue with a white carnation. She writes: "I do hope that sometime during month of May you will publish in your column Henry Abbey's lovely poem, 'May in Kingston.' I contacted one member of the 300th Anniversary Committee thinking it might be published in the tercentenary book, but it had already gone to print. That poem is so lovely and tells so much about Kingston. Mr. Abbey as you know lived in Kingston. I have a copy of his book of poems which he gave (autographed) to my sister, Elizabeth McKern in 1909."

I would like to see that poem, and if it is not too long perhaps can use it. I think there is a portrait in oils of Kingston Poet Abbey in our city library. Miss Schaffer I think knew him personally. That painting, I was told was painted by the famous John Vanderlyn's nephew, also a John Vanderlyn. Mrs. Irene K. Blass has sent me poetry from time to time and I have been able to use them. She is very clever at taking local historical events and combining them into poetry.

Well it looks like the fate of Kingston Point Park is sealed to never again re-open as a park. It was sad news to read. But of course commerce comes first, without it there are no cities, no streets, no lights, no houses, no improvements, no bread on the table. I drove down there just once this spring and found a number of cars there with folks admiring the river.

I had two charming visitors the other day. Mrs. Leona Hermance of 149 Prospect street and Mrs. Nicols. Mrs. Hermance's family first settled in Willow and she wanted to know if I had anything on the history of Willow. I referred her to Mrs. Bruno Zimm, president of the Woodstock Historical Society of Woodstock. Perhaps Mrs. Zimm can help her out. Mrs. Hermance also told me that she has a collection of over 350 sets of salt and pepper shakers, all different. They were sent or brought to her from different parts of the world. She has some very old ones too. Mrs. Nichols comes from West Shokan and remembers Bernard Austin Dwyer, who used to be "Josh"on my radio skit, "Soph and Josh." She said he was a great reader. Not only was the late "Josh" a great reader but he had a wonderful memory. He could memorize long poems and passages from books for ever so long.

When I ride by Schumann's corner I often think of the white wooden horse that used to stand there. I wonder what happened to it. I see in the Eddyville news of 1897, that George Schumann gave his daughter, Lena and son, Charles Von Beck Schumann, handsome Victor bicycles. It was said that there were over 100 bicycles in Eddyville alone. Those were the days when Schumann Hotel was flourishing and back in 1897 the whole interior was freshly painted and decorated. I think a drive around Eddyville on a warm spring day is as pleasant and picturesque as can be found anywhere in this country.

UNCLE EF

There seem to be quite a few clear calls being heard this election year. Doc Smithers remarked that General Eisenhower heard one kind and Senator Tom Connally another. The call that it was time for him to come back to Texas after 35 years was so clear to the old senator that he decided not to run again.

Poland. These include members of the PAK (Polska Armia Krajowa, or Polish Home Army) and the ROAK, a movement which makes armed stabs against Communists. There have been arrests, trials and executions, but still the cells of resistance go on, working in units of three in attempts to escape detection.

Humiliation of Communists is a ROAK weapon. In one instance, ROAK fighters seized a Communist official and stripped him. They sent the clothing to the local Communist leader with a letter telling of the incident. The story spread. In another instance, partisans invaded the home of a Communist village mayor, locked his family in the cellar and beat him up.

Partisans Escape Camps

Many partisans have escaped from labor camps. They live off the land and peasants help them.

Enraged, the UB, the dread secret police, stage frequent roundups, frequent invasions of homes in the dead of night. Party activists also are sent out on spot checks and smilar missions to root out partisans.

But the secret police fear enemies in their own ranks. UB agents spy upon one another. Many other spies are hired, some of them youngsters under 16.

The liaison department of the foreign ministry is controlled by the secret police, and so is the special school for training lower personnel and officials of the foreign ministry.

System of Terror

The system is one of terror. Its chief weapon is a chain of prisons and concentration camps.

The UB and its companion police organization, the KBW, or Security Force, are not responsible to the government. Like the army of 500,000 or more, the police units come under Konstantin Rokossovsky, a Soviet army marshal who is now Poland's defense minister and Moscow's viceroy.

Rokossovsky's right hand man is reported to be Marian Naszkowski, vice minister of national defense and head of the army's political division. About 42, he served in the USSR in the war. He is a protege of the woman Communist leader, Wanda Wassilewska, a trusted envoy of Moscow.

The newly adopted constitution is virtually a carbon copy of the Soviet Union's. Communist control goes down to the smallest village.

The party's control, meanwhile, extends to each individual citizen under a new system of identity cards.

The USSR is erecting a monument to its domination of Warsaw. This is a 30-story building being built by Soviet engineers and workers to house the Academy of Sciences. It may also house headquarters of the Communist propaganda front, the World Peace Congress.

Although Poles suffered in the recent Polish currency reform, when the zloty was called in at the rate of one new for 100 old, the standard of living still apparently is above the Soviet average, a condition the Soviets will not long tolerate.

Lowers Buying Power

The effect of currency reform was to lower buying power, so that even with a wage rise, workers' incomes actually were severely cut.

A well paid person, such as a factory manager, can earn up to 1,800 zloty a month. A suit of poor quality costs him 1,000 zloty; shoes, 300; overcoat, 1,500; butter, 20 zloty a pound. Food is not plentiful either, principally because many peasants hoard their produce rather than turn it over to the state.

Many Poles still hope for a day of liberation. The hope is shared by exiled leaders. Stanislaw Mikolajczyk, former premier and head of the Polish peasant party, is an exile in the United States. He puts it this way:

"It does not matter when, where or why the beginning of the liberation will come, but one thing is sure: Our people believe it will come, and they are able to endure the terror and intimidation. And surely in the decisive moment, they will rise up and help in the liberation of their country."

THIS COLUMN WILL END FIGHTS

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

I still get letters from all parts of the country about a point that I have covered in this column two or three times. "When are you allowed to count the top card of the discard pile as part of your inital meld?" they want to know.

The answer is short and simple: always.

It doesn't matter whether you need 50, 90, or 120. It doesn't matter whether the discard pile is frozen or unfrozen. You are always allowed to count the previous discard as part of your initial meld (provided, of course, that you are taking the pile).

Let's take an example. The player at your right discards a jack, and you need 50 points for the initial meld. You hold two jacks and a deuce. Those cards add up to only 40 points, but you reach 50 points when you count the jack that is at the top of the discard pile.

You are therefore allowed to put down your two jacks and your deuce and take the pile. This is equally true whether or not the discard pile is frozen.

Some players have the mistaken idea that you need the full count outside of a matching pair when the pack is frozen. There is nothing at all in this idea. All you need is the matching pair and a meld that somehow totals at least your minimum count when you add up the top card of the pile, else you may wish to meld.

Some players have the mistaken idea that you must put your initial meld down from your hand when the pile is frozen, and that your side can take the discard pile only at a later turn. There is nothing in this idea either. Whether or not the pack is frozen, you are allowed to take the discard pile on the same play in which you make your initial meld.

This brings me to another point frequently asked. The player at your right discards a jack, when the pile is not frozen. Are you allowed to put down your initial meld—say three aces, when you need 50 points—and then take the pile on the same play with a jack and a wild card?

You are not allowed to do that. You may take the discard pile with one matching card and a wild card only if your side has made the initial meld at a previous turn to play. Whenever you take the pile and make the initial meld at the same turn you must put down a natural pair that matches the previous discard.

If some of your friends have discussed these points, please clip this article out and save it to settle the next discussion.

Mr. Jacoby is unable to answer individual questions on Canasta from readers. However, he will include the most frequently asked questions in his column.

Among them, the planets in the solar system have 31 moons.

Poland. These include members of the PAK (Polska Armia Krajowa, or Polish Home Army) and the ROAK, a movement which makes armed stabs against Communists. There have been arrests, trials and executions, but still the cells of resistance go on, working in units of three in attempts to escape detection.

Humiliation of Communists is a ROAK weapon. In one instance, ROAK fighters seized a Communist official and stripped him. They sent the clothing to the local Communist leader with a letter telling of the incident. The story spread. In another instance, partisans invaded the home of a Communist village mayor, locked his family in the cellar and beat him up.

Partisans Escape Camps

Many partisans have escaped from labor camps. They live off the land and peasants help them.

Enraged, the UB, the dread secret police, stage frequent roundups, frequent invasions of homes in the dead of night. Party activists also are sent out on spot checks and smilar missions to root out partisans.

But the secret police fear enemies in their own ranks. UB agents spy upon one another. Many other spies are hired, some of them youngsters under 16.

The liaison department of the foreign ministry is controlled by the secret police, and so is the special school for training lower personnel and officials of the foreign ministry.

System of Terror

The system is one of terror. Its chief weapon is a chain of prisons and concentration camps.

The UB and its companion police organization, the KBW, or Security Force, are not responsible to the government. Like the army of 500,000 or more, the police units come under Konstantin Rokossovsky, a Soviet army marshal who is now Poland's defense minister and Moscow's viceroy.

Rokossovsky's right hand man is reported to be Marian Naszkowski, vice minister of national defense and head of the army's political division. About 42, he served in the USSR in the war. He is a protege of the woman Communist leader, Wanda Wassilewska, a trusted envoy of Moscow.

The newly adopted constitution is virtually a carbon copy of the Soviet Union's. Communist control goes down to the smallest village.

The party's control, meanwhile, extends to each individual citizen under a new system of identity cards.

The USSR is erecting a monument to its domination of Warsaw. This is a 30-story building being built by Soviet engineers and workers to house the Academy of Sciences. It may also house headquarters of the Communist propaganda front, the World Peace Congress.

Although Poles suffered in the recent Polish currency reform, when the zloty was called in at the rate of one new for 100 old, the standard of living still apparently is above the Soviet average, a condition the Soviets will not long tolerate.

Lowers Buying Power

The effect of currency reform was to lower buying power, so that even with a wage rise, workers' incomes actually were severely cut.

A well paid person, such as a factory manager, can earn up to 1,800 zloty a month. A suit of poor quality costs him 1,000 zloty; shoes, 300; overcoat, 1,500; butter, 20 zloty a pound. Food is not plentiful either, principally because many peasants hoard their produce rather than turn it over to the state.

Many Poles still hope for a day of liberation. The hope is shared by exiled leaders. Stanislaw Mikolajczyk, former premier and head of the Polish peasant party, is an exile in the United States. He puts it this way:

"It does not matter when, where or why the beginning of the liberation will come, but one thing is sure: Our people believe it will come, and they are able to endure the terror and intimidation. And surely in the decisive moment, they will rise up and help in the liberation of their country."

THIS COLUMN WILL END FIGHTS

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

I still get letters from all parts of the country about a point that I have covered in this column two or three times. "When are you allowed to count the top card of the discard pile as part of your inital meld?" they want to know.

The answer is short and simple: always.

It doesn't matter whether you need 50, 90, or 120. It doesn't matter whether the discard pile is frozen or unfrozen. You are always allowed to count the previous discard as part of your initial meld (provided, of course, that you are taking the pile).

Let's take an example. The player at your right discards a jack, and you need 50 points for the initial meld. You hold two jacks and a deuce. Those cards add up to only 40 points, but you reach 50 points when you count the jack that is at the top of the discard pile.

You are therefore allowed to put down your two jacks and your deuce and take the pile. This is equally true whether or not the discard pile is frozen.

Some players have the mistaken idea that you need the full count outside of a matching pair when the pack is frozen. There is nothing at all in this idea. All you need is the matching pair and a meld that somehow totals at least your minimum count when you add up the top card of the pile, else you may wish to meld.

Some players have the mistaken idea that you must put your initial meld down from your hand when the pile is frozen, and that your side can take the discard pile only at a later turn. There is nothing in this idea either. Whether or not the pack is frozen, you are allowed to take the discard pile on the same play in which you make your initial meld.

This brings me to another point frequently asked. The player at your right discards a jack, when the pile is not frozen. Are you allowed to put down your initial meld—say three aces, when you need 50 points—and then take the pile on the same play with a jack and a wild card?

You are not allowed to do that. You may take the discard pile with one matching card and a wild card only if your side has made the initial meld at a previous turn to play. Whenever you take the pile and make the initial meld at the same turn you must put down a natural pair that matches the previous discard.

If some of your friends have discussed these points, please clip this article out and save it to settle the next discussion.

Mr. Jacoby is unable to answer individual questions on Conasta from readers. However, he will include the most frequently asked questions in his column.

Among them, the planets in the solar system have 31 moons.

Union Center Names Trustees

Three new trustees were elected at the Union Center School, District 4, Town of Esopus, at the annual meeting Tuesday evening in the school house. A budget of $7,105.06 was approved for 1952-53 with a sum of $3,960, representing an increase of $60 to be raised by taxes.

A motion to increase the budget by $1,000 for the installation of a new lighting system was not approved. A representative of the Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corporation, Harold E. Keator, was present and explained fully the merits of the modern type lighting under consideration.

Because of other capital improvements necessary this year, the majority feeling was not to further increase obligations in the district at this time.

Resignations were accepted with regret from two trustees whose other duties make it impossible for them to continue to serve. They were Raymond Winckelbach and Otto Thoden. Grover Bunje, whose one-year term expired, declined renomination.

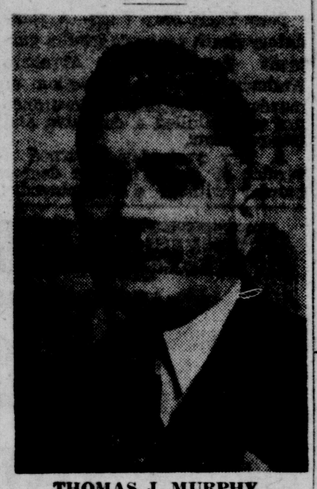

New trustees elected included Mrs. Ernest J. Ryan, Jr., one year; George M. Hard, two years; and Edward Davis, three years.

The tellers for the meeting were Mrs. Ryan and Mrs. Robert Elliott. Mrs. Gabriel Guido was the clerk and George M. Hard, chairman.

Boy, 14, Is Held In Fatal Shooting

Harrisburg, Pa., May 7 (AP)—Fourteen-year-old John Sarver, 2nd was lodged in the Children's Detention Home here today in the fatal shooting and stabbing of a 13-year-old companion.

District Attorney Huette F. Dowling said charges would be filed tomorrow. He did not specify what they would contain.

Sarver was taken into custody yesterday, Dowling said, after he admitted "accidentally" shooting Kenneth Teacher Jr., and then disemboweling him with a machete.

Dowling said Sarver told him he became "scared" after the shooting Monday night and plunged the big knife into Teacher's abdomen to disguise the bullet wound from a .22 calibre rifle.

The death took place on the northeast outskirts of Harrisburg less than two miles from where the boys lived.

Coroner Thomas J. Fritchey said an autopsy showed that 19 inches of intestine was cut from Teacher's abdomen and "pulled out by hand." Death could have been caused, he said, either by the bullet or stab wound.

"Your attendance will not obligate you to work on the campaign," Trull said. "We want your cooperation and advice on how to most effectively run the campaign in this area."

Union Center Names Trustees

Three new trustees were elected at the Union Center School, District 4, Town of Esopus, at the annual meeting Tuesday evening in the school house. A budget of $7,105.06 was approved for 1952-53 with a sum of $3,960, representing an increase of $60 to be raised by taxes.

A motion to increase the budget by $1,000 for the installation of a new lighting system was not approved. A representative of the Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corporation, Harold E. Keator, was present and explained fully the merits of the modern type lighting under consideration.

Because of other capital improvements necessary this year, the majority feeling was not to further increase obligations in the district at this time.

Resignations were accepted with regret from two trustees whose other duties make it impossible for them to continue to serve. They were Raymond Winckelbach and Otto Thoden. Grover Bunje, whose one-year term expired, declined renomination.

New trustees elected included Mrs. Ernest J. Ryan, Jr., one year; George M. Hard, two years; and Edward Davis, three years.

The tellers for the meeting were Mrs. Ryan and Mrs. Robert Elliott. Mrs. Gabriel Guido was the clerk and George M. Hard, chairman.

New Paltz Banquet

New Paltz Girl Scouts will entertain their fathers at a banquet, Tuesday, May 13 in the social room at the Reformed Church, Mrs. Henry Barg, Girl Scout committee chairman has announced. After the dinner at 6 p. m., each troop will provide a short period of entertainment for their guests.

Planning programs with the girls through troop government was the subject of a film script viewed by committee members, troop leaders and assistant troop leaders who visited a meeting of committee and community leaders in Wallkill Tuesday night.

A film designed for troop leaders, it showed how they might help their girls to plan their troop programs. New Paltz visitors enjoyed the film, and the opportunity of visiting the scout cabin in Wallkill, used by the Girl and Boy Scouts of the village.

Those from New Paltz who attended the meeting were Mrs. Henry Barg, Mrs. William Bracken, Mrs. Harold Elsbree, Mrs. William Heidgerd, and the Misses Mary Hedburg, Mary Lou Hauri, Betty Allen, Barbara Heagney and Barbara Frick.

Boy, 14, Is Held In Fatal Shooting

Harrisburg, Pa., May 7 (AP)—Fourteen-year-old John Sarver, 2nd was lodged in the Children's Detention Home here today in the fatal shooting and stabbing of a 13-year-old companion.

District Attorney Huette F. Dowling said charges would be filed tomorrow. He did not specify what they would contain.

Sarver was taken into custody yesterday, Dowling said, after he admitted "accidentally" shooting Kenneth Teacher Jr., and then disemboweling him with a machete.

Dowling said Sarver told him he became "scared" after the shooting Monday night and plunged the big knife into Teacher's abdomen to disguise the bullet wound from a .22 calibre rifle.

The death took place on the northeast outskirts of Harrisburg less than two miles from where the boys lived.

Coroner Thomas J. Fritchey said an autopsy showed that 19 inches of intestine was cut from Teacher's abdomen and "pulled out by hand." Death could have been caused, he said, either by the bullet or stab wound.

"Your attendance will not obligate you to work on the campaign," Trull said. "We want your cooperation and advice on how to most effectively run the campaign in this area."

Debate Is Postponed

Washington, May 7 (AP)—Senate debate on the controversial St. Lawrence Seaway Bill has been postponed and there's no certainty when it will be considered. Backers of the measure had hoped for action Friday but the Senate Policy Committee, which decides the order of business, agreed yesterday to take up an immigration bill first. This means the St. Lawrence debate may be put off indefinitely.

Electrol Report Given in Journal

According to the Wall Street Journal, Electrol Incorporated, aircraft hydraulics manufacturer, 85 Grand street, this city, is expected to report record net profits and sales for the fiscal year ended March 31. In the preceding year sales totaled $3,462,603, resulting in a net profit of $170,122, or 60 cents on each of the 285,000 shares outstanding at the time. A 4% stock dividend was paid in January, 1952. The company paid a dividend of 10 cents on the greater number of shares on April 30, first cash disbursement since August of 1951. A company spokesman has asserted this latest dividend places the stock on a 40 cents annual basis 'and we expect this rate will grow to 60 cents next year.'

"The company, with its plant at Kingston, N. Y., is largely engaged in supplying such aircraft parts as landing gear accessories and scores of varied valves for the defense effort. Major customers are Grumman and Republic. The company employes 800, double the total of two years ago."

Settlement Is Reached

Los Angeles, May 7 (AP)—Franchot Tone and Barbara Payton have made an out of court property settlement and the way is now open for an uncontested divorce. After the agreement was announced yesterday, Tone's petition to file an amended divorce complaint charging his wife with adultery with actor Tom Neal was taken off the court calendar. Miss Payton's attorney, Milton Golden, said "there was a settlement for a cash consideration that was satisfactory." He did not disclose the amount. The couple married last September, 10 days after Neal beat Tone in a brawl over the actress' affections.

Death Sentence Awaits Keshner

New York, May 7 (AP)—A mandatory death sentence awaits garment manufacturer Abraham Keshner after his conviction of murder for plotting an insurance fire which killed a detective and two arsonists.

A jury yesterday returned a verdict of guilty of first degree murder without a recommendation for mercy against the 42-year-old manufacturer. Sentencing will be May 15.

Keshner admitted he hired the arsonists for $1,350 to set ablaze his fifth floor plant. He said he hoped to collect $20,000 insurance.

The fire, followed by an explosion, swept through a nine-story downtown Manhattan building. The inferno snuffed out the life of Detective James Daggett, who was trailing the arsonists, and two of the plotters, Jacob Weiss and Morris Shapiro.

Can you pick up a bigger bargain?

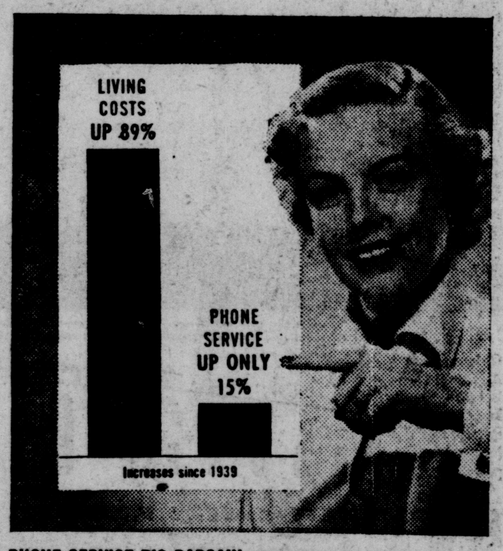

There may be a few things that you can buy today for only a little more than you paid ten years ago. But mighty few!

The dollar that bought 100 cents' worth back in 1939 won't buy as much today. Higher prices for almost everything you buy have cut that dollar nearly in half. Except when it buys you telephone service.

For the telephone gives you bigger value today than ten years ago. Millions of telephones have been added in New York State alone—you can call more people and more can call you. Compared with a decade ago, customers in the average community can call twice as many places without a toll charge today. Operator toll dialing has given added speed to long distance calls. Research and engineering work have combined to make your telephone easier to use and more dependable than ever before.

Yet your telephone has gone up in price far less than most things you buy. It is up an average of only 15 per cent since 1939, compared to an 89 per cent rise in prices generally.

When value goes up but the price stays low, it's a good measure of a bargain.

PHONE SERVICE BIG BARGAIN. Today's cost-of-living figure shows a jump of 89 per cent since 1939. Yet telephone service for the average home has risen only 15 per cent in this same period. It's one of today's best buys.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Human Factor Can Help Your Bridge

BY OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

The trouble with certain bridge players is that they think only with their own brains. Sometimes it's more important to think with an opponent's brains.

Take today's hand for example. South was brilliant—except that he forgot the human factor.

South ruffed the opening diamond lead, cashed the ace of hearts, and then led the ten of spades. It was a splendid idea—as far as it went. He was willing to give up one trump trick to make sure of getting to dummy with the nine of spades. Then he would discard low clubs on the king and queen of hearts.

When this hand was played, nearly 20 years ago, the East cards were held by Lee Hazen. Today Hazen is one of the best bridge players in the country, but at that time he had been playing the game for only a few months.

Nevertheless it wasn't difficult for him to see that declarer was trying to give up a trump trick in order to reach dummy. So East refused to win the trick.

Declarer was still far from beaten. He laid down the ace of clubs and followed with the king of clubs. If Hazen ruffed, the defense would be washed up. Declarer would win any return, capture the jack of trumps, and enter dummy with the nine of trumps.

Beginner though he was at the time, Hazen could see declarer's plan. South obviously had only black cards left in his hand and was trying desperately to reach dummy. So Hazen refused to ruff the king of clubs.

And now declarer was washed up. There was just nothing he could do with his two low clubs. If he tried to ruff them in dummy, East would over-ruff. If he drew trumps, West would eventually win two club tricks.

South went wrong because he forgot that his opponents would surely block him if he made his plans crystal clear. The right plan for the hand is to ruff the first diamond and immediately lead the ace and king of clubs.

If both opponents follow, South can then draw trumps and give up one club at most. If an opponent ruffs the first or second club, South has a sure entry to dummy by means of the nine of spades.

Would East refuse to ruff the second club if the hand were played this way? He'd have to be a mind reader to reject the trick, so South would almost surely make his slam.

Wigley Gets Discharge

Travis Air Force Base, Calif., May 7 (AP)—Clarence B. Wigley, Jr., a B-29 pilot who lived in a church belfry several weeks, has been issued an air force discharge "under conditions other than honorable." The air force said yesterday he was permitted to resign in lieu of a court martial on desertion charges. He was paroled to his father, Clarence B. Wigley, Sr., Wichita Falls, Tex. The ex-flier, arrested last week, said he was the "phantom" of the Vallejo, Calif., Seventh-Day Adventist Church belfry, who unlocked doors and removed food and dishes. Wigley's discharge is a type without the penalty of a discharge separation, but without the privileges of an honorable one.

Sues for More Support

Los Angeles, May 7 (AP)—Actress Lynn Bari has sued agent Sid Luft for increased support for their 3-year-old son. She asserts Luft and Judy Garland earned more than $750,000 last year. The suit, filed yesterday, says Luft was $10,000 in debt and unemployed when Miss Bari divorced him in 1950. She asks that his support payments be increased from $200 to $500 monthly. Luft now "is engaged in a lucrative theatrical business and partnership and association" with Miss Garland, the suit says. Luft and Miss Garland are engaged.

Instrument Makers Cry Out Bitterly At Restrictions

Washington, May 7 (AP)—Manufacturers of band instruments tooted the hard times blues to Congress today.

They complained that their horn foundries, already hard hit by lower import duties and cheaper foreign labor costs, now face extinction by reason of a National Production Authority (NPA) order reducing their metal supply by 65 per cent.

Waler W. Mueller of Long Island City, N. Y., spokesman for the industry, said the domestic instrument makers are barred from using decorative trim and can't even consider solid nickel parts, while foreign manufacturers make "extravagant use" of strategic metals.

Mueller suggested that the House Banking Committee, in drafting legislation to extend the economic controls laws, include an amendment which would limit imports to the same degree that domestic production is cut back by restrictions on the use of metal.

The committee is in its second week of hearings on the controls extension bill.

Small Plane Damaged

Fishkill, N. Y., May 7 (AP)—A Connecticut man cracked up a small plane near here in a thunderstorm yesterday but escaped unhurt. Robert Kell, of Old Greenwich, Conn., got caught in thundershowers while flying a single-engine plane from Washington, D. C., to the Westchester County Airport. Nearly out of gas, he put the plane down on a ridge two miles north of Mount Beacon. State police said the plane, owned by the New Horizon Flying Club at the Westchester Field, was badly damaged.

About three out of five U. S. homes now have telephones, almost twice as many as had them in 1920.

Rising Sun Returns

Vancouver (AP) — The "Rising Sun" was flying in the port here recently for the first time since Pearl Harbor. The once-familiar Japanese flag was flying from the steamship Meiwa Maru as she arrived on her maiden voyage, first Japanese ship here since the motorship Hikawa Maru sailed for Japan a few weeks before Pearl Harbor.

Sentences Are Given

New York, May 7 (AP)—Suspended sentences have been meted out to 22 more World War 2 veterans, charged with conspiring to defraud the Veterans Administration by submitting false claims for beauty school tuition. The sentencing, by Federal Judge Gregory F. Noonan yesterday, brought to 50 the total number of accused veterans who have received suspended sentences in the plot. Another 149 veterans also are defendants. Noonan placed the 22 on probation for periods ranging from one day to nine months. Those receiving the one-day period had repaid the money they allegedly received fraudulently. The others are expected to make payment by the time their probation terms end.

Bookstein Grants Motion To Dismiss Complaint; Reserves Hudson Decision

A motion to dismiss the complaint, made by defense counsel in an action for breach of contract brought by Ferris Briggs against Herschel Jones Marketing Service, Inc., and J. Edward McGowan of town of Marlborough, was granted yesterday by Supreme Court Justice Isadore Bookstein after the action had been partially tried. The action involved sale of apples. Counsel for both defendants moved for the dismissal.

Plaintiff was represented by Michael Nardone and George Rusk of Rusk & Rusk and N. LeVan Haver appeared for the defendants.

Recovery Is Sought

An action for goods sold and delivered was taken up for trial this morning in Supreme court before Justice Bookstein and a jury. Northeastern Woodworking Co., Inc., brings an action against Roy-New York Co., Inc., to recover for doors and door casements ordered by the defendant company. The defendant company also brings under a counter claim an allegation of damages for failure to carry out terms of the contract. Involved in the suit are orders for several hundred doors and casements which the defendant company ordered in 1948. Shipments were made at various times and on certain of the shipments portions of the shipments were rejected.

LeRoy Lounsberry of Lounsberry & Lonstein appear for plaintiff and Morris Hutter appears for defendant.

A negligence action, Cesare Perlini against Theodore Rozendorf and another, was announced settled. Michael Nardone for plaintiff and Cook & Cook for defendant.

Hudson Application Heard

The case on trial was interrupted while Justice Bookstein heard an application under a writ of certiorari brought by Wilbur Hoodmaker, 59, and John Hermance, 55, of Hudson, for reversal of an order of Justice Henry L. Ughetta which found them guilty of contempt of court last April 25. They were sentenced to jail for 30 days for refusal to give names of Hudson men who it is alleged were habitual players at a crap game in Hudson. Both men hold they are being illegally confined in Columbia county jail.

The two men told Justice Ughetta they could not recall the names of Hudson crapshooters. At a special term of Supreme court, convened in connection with the grand jury investigation of alleged gambling activities in Hudson, Justice Ughetta asked Hoodmaker and Hermance to name players in a regular Saturday night crap game on North Seventh street, Hudson. They could recall no names.

Hoodmaker had testified in the grand jury investigation he was a "stick man" (croupier) and Hermance was a doorman. Justice Ughetta told the men when they did not recall names "you obviously are not telling the truth."

Reserves Decision

Special Prosecutor Paul W. Williams asked Justice Bookstein today to refer the matter back to Justice Ughetta for review. Justice Bookstein reserved decision on that request.

R. Waldron Herzberg of Hudson appeared for the petitioners and argued that they had not been represented by counsel when first brought into court before Justice Ughetta and that on the afternoon of April 25 when they were held in contempt their counsel Adolph Matties of Hudson had been "summarily" denied an adjournment to discuss the case with his clients. Herzberg said the two defendants had been handed an order to show cause at 1:45 p. m. and at 2 o'clock were brought into court to answer to the contempt charge. Meanwhile they had retained Matties but he had no time to discuss the case with them or to consult with them after the contempt charge was lodged and after he had asked for an adjournment. Herzberg also claims the order of commitment fails to reveal the facts or reasons for the contempt charge which it is alleged happened when the men told Justice Ughetta they could not recall names.

Says They Must Have Known

Thomas Mason, special assistant attorney general, appeared for the respondent, and argued that the men must have known names of some of the men who had played in a crap game Saturday night over a long period of time. The game allegedly had been going on for several years. Their refusal to recollect any names constituted contempt, he held. The warrant of commitment under which the men were lodged in jail contains the stenographic record of the court and he held this was sufficient statement as to the facts upon which the contempt was based by the court.

Justice Bookstein tooik the papers and reserved decision on the writ and also the request to refer the whole matter back to Justice Ughetta.

Kefauver, Russell

in 46 races and were leading in the other 10 with about 65 per cent of the vote counted.

Taft claimed the Ohio vote would give him 401 GOP delegates and that Eisenhower now has 721.

Charles P. Taft, the senator's brother, won the Republican nomination for governor. He will meet Gov. Frank Lausche, Democrat incumbent, in the November election.

Michael DiSalle, former head of the Office of Price Stabilization, appeared the winner for the Democratic nomination for U. S. senator, Republican Sen. John Bricker was unopposed for renomination.

Other Primaries

Yesterday's primaries in Alabama, New Mexico and Indiana turned out this way:

Alabama — Returns indicated Alabama's unpledged 22-vote Democratic delegation may go 3½ for Russell, 2 for Kefauver and 16½ uncommitted. Delegates meet May 27 to decide a course of action.

New Mexico—Patrick J. Hurley won his third try for the Senate, this time overcoming opposition within his own party, some Republicans saying he was too old (69, he says), and was twice-defeated. Hurley will oppose the Democratic incumbent, Sen. Dennis Chavez, who beat him in 1946. There was no presidential preference or delegate election.

Indiana—No presidential preference here, either, and light voting picked state convention delegates who will select national delegates.

In Washington, meanwhile, President Truman—who will be 68 tomorrow — contemplated a whistle-stop campaign against those he accused of playing right down Stalin's alley.

The President, addressing the National Housing Conference last night, said his targets will be appropriations-cutters and lobbyists who have fought him, especially "the real estate lobby."

Other developments:

Eisenhower's strength among Missouri's 26-vote GOP delegation rose to 11 certain and two probable. In district elections yesterday, he got two pledged and one "leaning." He already had nine sure and one probable. Taft has one pledged.

away from the Broadway underpass project, he said, other streets have carried traffic heavier than that for which they were intended.

BPW Tries, He Says

The BPW is endeavoring to make repairs, he said, but he held that filling holes in patch-up style is a method of temporary and doubtful value, and expensive, he suggested the committee to survey all street conditions and set up priorities based on the amount of traffic and the conditions of the surface and roadbeds.

The water board recently announced possible use of surplus monies to conduct surveys to determine the future needs of water system development.

The BPW has been allotted $75,000 for street work for the past few years. The appropriation for machinery this year is slightly more han $47,000.

Garment Workers Back CIO Ship Union

Local 186, Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America, CIO, at a meeting yesterday, endorsed the efforts of the Marine and Shipbuilding Workers of America, CIO, "in the organization of the workers at the Kingston shipyards.

Members of the local union were addressed by Louis DePasquale, international representative of the IUMSWA. The union pledged its support to "this organization in its coming NLRB election to be held May 15."

Information on the meeting was released by Frank McMahon, president, and Mabel Fisher, business agent.

Bequest of $5,000

Letter Received

A finance committee report explaining the street project, said the committee had received a letter from the mayor with a BPW request to make available $30,000 for drainage, grading, curbing, sidewalks and the paving of Dietz Court and Melvin Drive in the West Chestnut street area.

Under city law the developer pays 75 per cent of the cost of such developments. The council authorized $30,000 in bond anticipation notes pending the sale of bonds previously authorized.

A claim for $150 filed by Elmer Carney figured in an argument after Carney was allowed privilege of the floor. Carney, earlier in the year, had filed a claim for $5,000 for damages and inconveniences, which he charges, are due to bad conditions on Florence street extension.

The claim filed last night, was due, he said, to the negligence of the city in the maintenance, operation and control of the entrance to Florence street, where a large bump in the ground near Stephan street, last April 20 had caused him to break the transmission in his car.

Argument between Carney and Second Ward Alderman Benjamin Storms followed a query by Third Ward Alderman Edwin Radel as to why a report had not been given by the traffic committee on a request four months ago for an investigation of conditions on Florence street.

The claim filed last night was the third arising from conditions on the street, Radel said, and he asked why there had been no action.

More of BPW Problem

Storms, who is chairman of the traffic committee, said the conditions of the street appeared to be more of a problem for the BPW than the committee.

Carney, who was then given the privilege of the floor, said he had been trying for a long time to get action, and his efforts have been "on a merry-go-round." He asked that a bi-partisan committee of aldermen be appointed to investigate.

Storms held it was up to Carney and others concerned to sign for their share of a street improvement project and this had not been done. Storms said those were the conditions under which the city took the land, and Carney countered, "the city can't bond me," and he contended the city, through acceptance of the deed was at least obliged to make the street passable.

Carney argued again that he was being given "the run-around," and Storms said he was making demands, but was unwilling to take the necessary steps for a street project.

Alderman Radel argued that unless the city had intended at least to make the street passable it should not have accepted the deed. He posed the question as to the city's right to open the street to anybody unless steps were taken for its full development as a thoroughfare.

Storms said at first that all of the claims arising from conditions on the street had been filed by Carney, but he withdrew that when he later learned that Carney had filed only two.

Was Referred

When the question of delay in obtaining action was argued, Alderman-at-large Joseph Kelly revealed that Radel's resolution of four months ago had been referred to both the BPW and the traffic committee.

Storms said he had visited the area and that in his opinion the problem rests with the BPW.

The budget of the Board of Education was received and filed since the council is no longer required to act upon it. It lists a total of $1,083,689.07 of which $635,870.64 is to be raised by tax levy.

Among Suggestions

Suggestions by Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk to the traffic committee dealing with regulations after the opening of the Broadway underpass were referred to that committee.

They included no left turns off Broadway at Cedar or Cornell streets, and none off Broadway entering Thomas street. That the latter street be made one-way between Broadway and the new access street connecting Cornell and Thomas streets with the entrance to Thomas street from the Broadway side.

Another was to allow no parking on either side of Broadway for 270 feet northwest and 270 feet southeast starting from the center of the Railroad overpass bridge. He also recommended a study of the remaining part of the underpass as to parking regulations.

A claim by Louise Provenzano, of Merilina avenue, town of Ulster, for $1,500 for injuries suffered in a fall on Cornell street last March 10, was referred to the corporation counsel. Thomas F. Saccoman is the attorney.

The claimant said the injuries were received when she fell over a pipe projecting above the ground on a sidewalk and suffered injuries of the left hand and right knee.

Harry Cable of Rifton asked the city to pay a bill of $36.04 for a spring broken on his car on West O'Reilly street last April 15. There was no other street that he could take from his home into the city that was in better condition, he said, and added: "I believe it is up to the city to pay the bill."

A claim by Daniel Lammon, 31 Shufeldt street, was forwarded by the BPW. The claimant holds the city liable for a $35 bill for repairs which he said were required because of an overloaded sewer line.

Deed Is Accepted

A deed for land which will "constitute a perimeter roadway" for the local housing project, was accepted. It had been previously approved by the planning board. The aldermen also adopted a zoning ordinance which will protect the residential status of an area near the housing project.

A zoning request by James D. Simpson was referred to the laws and rules committee. Simpson said he is the owner of land on O'Neil street adjacent to the railroad tracks and wishes to build a garage and asks a business zone designation. There is a garage opposite the property and other business properties in the area, he said.

The Kingston Veterans Association extended an invitation to the alderman-at-large and councilmen along with all city officials to participate in the local Memorial Day parade.

Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy was granted permission to attend the New York State Fire Chiefs' convention at Binghamton on June 4, 5, 6, and 7, and City Treasurer Oscar A. Goodsell was given permission to attend a conference of the Municipal Finance Officers Association in Boston on June 15 through 19.

The firm of Mills, Ward and Hobbs, 80 Broad street, New York, was authorized to do the city's auditing for the year ending Dec. 31, 1952 at a rate of $30 a day per man, provided the total does not exceed $2,000. The firm's report for the previous year was filed.

Resolutions Offered

Resolutions offered were:

Radel—That Shufeldt street, listed for repair "for several years, including 1952," be repaired, and that a no-parking zone be established on the East side of Grand street starting from Smith avenue to a point 50 feet from the curb line at TenBroeck avenue. Driveways have been blocked by cars parked by persons who work in the area, he said.

Cullum—That a sign reading "Children at Play" be placed at Merilina and Voorhees avenues and a street light be placed at the end of Pearl street.

Golden—That a stop-sign be placed at Mary's avenue and Pine Grove avenue.

Dolan—That a street light be placed midway on Augusta street, and that more suitable lights be placed at Wurts and Spring streets and Wurts and West Pierpont. At present crossing the street is dangerous for pedestrians and there have been accidents of a serious nature, he said.

Parmelee—That the water department investigate a condition of rust in the water in the South Wall street area. About 10 families have been affected for some time, he said.

The alderman explained: "I present this resolution with a feeling that a clear explanation is forthcoming from these boards both to the police department that has been completely misled by an apparently unorthodox procedure and to the entire city of taxpayers and voters."

Bookstein Grants Motion To Dismiss Complaint; Reserves Hudson Decision

A motion to dismiss the complaint, made by defense counsel in an action for breach of contract brought by Ferris Briggs against Herschel Jones Marketing Service, Inc., and J. Edward McGowan of town of Marlborough, was granted yesterday by Supreme Court Justice Isadore Bookstein after the action had been partially tried. The action involved sale of apples. Counsel for both defendants moved for the dismissal.

Plaintiff was represented by Michael Nardone and George Rusk of Rusk & Rusk and N. LeVan Haver appeared for the defendants.

Recovery Is Sought

An action for goods sold and delivered was taken up for trial this morning in Supreme court before Justice Bookstein and a jury. Northeastern Woodworking Co., Inc., brings an action against Roy-New York Co., Inc., to recover for doors and door casements ordered by the defendant company. The defendant company also brings under a counter claim an allegation of damages for failure to carry out terms of the contract. Involved in the suit are orders for several hundred doors and casements which the defendant company ordered in 1948. Shipments were made at various times and on certain of the shipments portions of the shipments were rejected.

LeRoy Lounsberry of Lounsberry & Lonstein appear for plaintiff and Morris Hutter appears for defendant.

A negligence action, Cesare Perlini against Theodore Rozendorf and another, was announced settled. Michael Nardone for plaintiff and Cook & Cook for defendant.

Hudson Application Heard

The case on trial was interrupted while Justice Bookstein heard an application under a writ of certiorari brought by Wilbur Hoodmaker, 59, and John Hermance, 55, of Hudson, for reversal of an order of Justice Henry L. Ughetta which found them guilty of contempt of court last April 25. They were sentenced to jail for 30 days for refusal to give names of Hudson men who it is alleged were habitual players at a crap game in Hudson. Both men hold they are being illegally confined in Columbia county jail.

The two men told Justice Ughetta they could not recall the names of Hudson crapshooters. At a special term of Supreme court, convened in connection with the grand jury investigation of alleged gambling activities in Hudson, Justice Ughetta asked Hoodmaker and Hermance to name players in a regular Saturday night crap game on North Seventh street, Hudson. They could recall no names.

Hoodmaker had testified in the grand jury investigation he was a "stick man" (croupier) and Hermance was a doorman. Justice Ughetta told the men when they did not recall names "you obviously are not telling the truth."

Reserves Decision

Special Prosecutor Paul W. Williams asked Justice Bookstein today to refer the matter back to Justice Ughetta for review. Justice Bookstein reserved decision on that request.

R. Waldron Herzberg of Hudson appeared for the petitioners and argued that they had not been represented by counsel when first brought into court before Justice Ughetta and that on the afternoon of April 25 when they were held in contempt their counsel Adolph Matties of Hudson had been "summarily" denied an adjournment to discuss the case with his clients. Herzberg said the two defendants had been handed an order to show cause at 1:45 p. m. and at 2 o'clock were brought into court to answer to the contempt charge. Meanwhile they had retained Matties but he had no time to discuss the case with them or to consult with them after the contempt charge was lodged and after he had asked for an adjournment. Herzberg also claims the order of commitment fails to reveal the facts or reasons for the contempt charge which it is alleged happened when the men told Justice Ughetta they could not recall names.

Says They Must Have Known

Thomas Mason, special assistant attorney general, appeared for the respondent, and argued that the men must have known names of some of the men who had played in a crap game Saturday night over a long period of time. The game allegedly had been going on for several years. Their refusal to recollect any names constituted contempt, he held. The warrant of commitment under which the men were lodged in jail contains the stenographic record of the court and he held this was sufficient statement as to the facts upon which the contempt was based by the court.

Justice Bookstein tooik the papers and reserved decision on the writ and also the request to refer the whole matter back to Justice Ughetta.

Alabama — Returns indicated Alabama's unpledged 22-vote Democratic delegation may go 3½ for Russell, 2 for Kefauver and 16½ uncommitted. Delegates meet May 27 to decide a course of action.

New Mexico—Patrick J. Hurley won his third try for the Senate, this time overcoming opposition within his own party, some Republicans saying he was too old (69, he says), and was twice-defeated. Hurley will oppose the Democratic incumbent, Sen. Dennis Chavez, who beat him in 1946. There was no presidential preference or delegate election.

Indiana—No presidential preference here, either, and light voting picked state convention delegates who will select national delegates.

In Washington, meanwhile, President Truman—who will be 68 tomorrow — contemplated a whistle-stop campaign against those he accused of playing right down Stalin's alley.

The President, addressing the National Housing Conference last night, said his targets will be appropriations-cutters and lobbyists who have fought him, especially "the real estate lobby."

Other developments:

Eisenhower's strength among Missouri's 26-vote GOP delegation rose to 11 certain and two probable. In district elections yesterday, he got two pledged and one "leaning." He already had nine sure and one probable. Taft has one pledged.

$50,000 Authorized

away from the Broadway underpass project, he said, other streets have carried traffic heavier than that for which they were intended.

BPW Tries, He Says

The BPW is endeavoring to make repairs, he said, but he held that filling holes in patch-up style is a method of temporary and doubtful value, and expensive, he suggested the committee to survey all street conditions and set up priorities based on the amount of traffic and the conditions of the surface and roadbeds.

The water board recently announced possible use of surplus monies to conduct surveys to determine the future needs of water system development.

The BPW has been allotted $75,000 for street work for the past few years. The appropriation for machinery this year is slightly more han $47,000.

Garment Workers Back CIO Ship Union

Local 186, Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America, CIO, at a meeting yesterday, endorsed the efforts of the Marine and Shipbuilding Workers of America, CIO, "in the organization of the workers at the Kingston shipyards.

Members of the local union were addressed by Louis DePasquale, international representative of the IUMSWA. The union pledged its support to "this organization in its coming NLRB election to be held May 15."

Information on the meeting was released by Frank McMahon, president, and Mabel Fisher, business agent.

Bequest of $5,000

Letter Received

A finance committee report explaining the street project, said the committee had received a letter from the mayor with a BPW request to make available $30,000 for drainage, grading, curbing, sidewalks and the paving of Dietz Court and Melvin Drive in the West Chestnut street area.

Under city law the developer pays 75 per cent of the cost of such developments. The council authorized $30,000 in bond anticipation notes pending the sale of bonds previously authorized.

A claim for $150 filed by Elmer Carney figured in an argument after Carney was allowed privilege of the floor. Carney, earlier in the year, had filed a claim for $5,000 for damages and inconveniences, which he charges, are due to bad conditions on Florence street extension.

The claim filed last night, was due, he said, to the negligence of the city in the maintenance, operation and control of the entrance to Florence street, where a large bump in the ground near Stephan street, last April 20 had caused him to break the transmission in his car.

Argument between Carney and Second Ward Alderman Benjamin Storms followed a query by Third Ward Alderman Edwin Radel as to why a report had not been given by the traffic committee on a request four months ago for an investigation of conditions on Florence street.

The claim filed last night was the third arising from conditions on the street, Radel said, and he asked why there had been no action.

More of BPW Problem

Storms, who is chairman of the traffic committee, said the conditions of the street appeared to be more of a problem for the BPW than the committee.

Carney, who was then given the privilege of the floor, said he had been trying for a long time to get action, and his efforts have been "on a merry-go-round." He asked that a bi-partisan committee of aldermen be appointed to investigate.

Storms held it was up to Carney and others concerned to sign for their share of a street improvement project and this had not been done. Storms said those were the conditions under which the city took the land, and Carney countered, "the city can't bond me," and he contended the city, through acceptance of the deed was at least obliged to make the street passable.

Carney argued again that he was being given "the run-around," and Storms said he was making demands, but was unwilling to take the necessary steps for a street project.

Alderman Radel argued that unless the city had intended at least to make the street passable it should not have accepted the deed. He posed the question as to the city's right to open the street to anybody unless steps were taken for its full development as a thoroughfare.

Storms said at first that all of the claims arising from conditions on the street had been filed by Carney, but he withdrew that when he later learned that Carney had filed only two.

Was Referred

When the question of delay in obtaining action was argued, Alderman-at-large Joseph Kelly revealed that Radel's resolution of four months ago had been referred to both the BPW and the traffic committee.

Storms said he had visited the area and that in his opinion the problem rests with the BPW.

The budget of the Board of Education was received and filed since the council is no longer required to act upon it. It lists a total of $1,083,689.07 of which $635,870.64 is to be raised by tax levy.

Among Suggestions

Suggestions by Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk to the traffic committee dealing with regulations after the opening of the Broadway underpass were referred to that committee.

They included no left turns off Broadway at Cedar or Cornell streets, and none off Broadway entering Thomas street. That the latter street be made one-way between Broadway and the new access street connecting Cornell and Thomas streets with the entrance to Thomas street from the Broadway side.

Another was to allow no parking on either side of Broadway for 270 feet northwest and 270 feet southeast starting from the center of the Railroad overpass bridge. He also recommended a study of the remaining part of the underpass as to parking regulations.

A claim by Louise Provenzano, of Merilina avenue, town of Ulster, for $1,500 for injuries suffered in a fall on Cornell street last March 10, was referred to the corporation counsel. Thomas F. Saccoman is the attorney.

The claimant said the injuries were received when she fell over a pipe projecting above the ground on a sidewalk and suffered injuries of the left hand and right knee.

Harry Cable of Rifton asked the city to pay a bill of $36.04 for a spring broken on his car on West O'Reilly street last April 15. There was no other street that he could take from his home into the city that was in better condition, he said, and added: "I believe it is up to the city to pay the bill."

A claim by Daniel Lammon, 31 Shufeldt street, was forwarded by the BPW. The claimant holds the city liable for a $35 bill for repairs which he said were required because of an overloaded sewer line.

Deed Is Accepted

A deed for land which will "constitute a perimeter roadway" for the local housing project, was accepted. It had been previously approved by the planning board. The aldermen also adopted a zoning ordinance which will protect the residential status of an area near the housing project.

A zoning request by James D. Simpson was referred to the laws and rules committee. Simpson said he is the owner of land on O'Neil street adjacent to the railroad tracks and wishes to build a garage and asks a business zone designation. There is a garage opposite the property and other business properties in the area, he said.

The Kingston Veterans Association extended an invitation to the aldermar-at-large and councilmen along with all city officials to participate in the local Memorial Day parade.

Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy was granted permission to attend the New York State Fire Chiefs' convention at Binghamton on June 4, 5, 6, and 7, and City Treasurer Oscar A. Goodsell was given permission to attend a conference of the Municipal Finance Officers Association in Boston on June 15 through 19.

The firm of Mills, Ward and Hobbs, 80 Broad street, New York, was authorized to do the city's auditing for the year ending Dec. 31, 1952 at a rate of $30 a day per man, provided the total does not exceed $2,000. The firm's report for the previous year was filed.

Resolutions Offered

Resolutions offered were:

Radel—That Shufeldt street, listed for repair "for several years, including 1952," be repaired, and that a no-parking zone be established on the East side of Grand street starting from Smith avenue to a point 50 feet from the curb line at TenBroeck avenue. Driveways have been blocked by cars parked by persons who work in the area, he said.

Cullum—That a sign reading "Children at Play" be placed at Merilina and Voorhees avenues and a street light be placed at the end of Pearl street.

Golden—That a stop-sign be placed at Mary's avenue and Pine Grove avenue.

Dolan—That a street light be placed midway on Augusta street, and that more suitable lights be placed at Wurts and Spring streets and Wurts and West Pierpont. At present crossing the street is dangerous for pedestrians and there have been accidents of a serious nature, he said.

Parmelee—That the water department investigate a condition of rust in the water in the South Wall street area. About 10 families have been affected for some time, he said.

Aldermen Request

vacancy of detective within a reasonable time while the salary for the job is included in the 1952 budget.

7. The future plans of both boards concerning this issue.

Two Posts Vacant

The alderman explained: "I present this resolution with a feeling that a clear explanation is forthcoming from these boards both to the police department that has been completely misled by an apparently unorthodox procedure and to the entire city of taxpayers and voters."

Grand Jury Faces Hudson Challenge

Hudson, N. Y., May 7 (AP)—The special grand jury probing gambling and possible corruption in Columbia county today faced a challenge of its legality from five alleged gamblers.

The five—only persons indicted by the grand jury since it heard the first witness March 11—served notice yesterday they would move tomorrow for dismissal of the indictments. They contended the jury was "improperly and illegally impaneled."

The motion is returnable before Justice Henry L. Ughetta, who is presiding at the special term of State Supreme Court convened for the investigation ordered by Gov. Dewey.

Dossiers Assembled

The defendants maintained the prosecution had assembled dossiers on prospective jurors and had labeled the files "desirable" and "undesirable." They said that only those veniremen whose dossiers were marked "desirable" had been accepted.

Two of the five defendants are Francis J. Mahota and Raymond Van Buren, both of Hudson. In separate indictments returned April 25, each was accused of being a common gambler and operating a horseroom.

The other three, indicted previously are James Passinella and Joseph Deeb, both of Watervliet, and Nick Lippera of Hudson. They were named in a single indictment charging them with conspiracy, being common gamblers and keeping a gaming establishment.

The grand jury recessed yesterday until Thursday after hearing several witnesses.

Democrats Move To Back Kefauver

Albany, N. Y., May 7 (AP)—An attempt to touch off a Kefauver boom among New York state Democratic presidential delegates was in the making today.

The political maneuvering was seen in these developments:

1. Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, campaigning for the presidential nomination, tonight will address the annual dinner of the Schoharie County Democratic County Committee at nearby Schoharie. He is expected to take a swipe at Gov. Dewey on crime conditions in New York state.

2. Assemblyman Sharon J. Mauhs, rural Schoharie's Democratic leader and delegate to the national convention, said he would support Kefauver for the nomination.

Assails 'Bossism'

Mauhs said in a statement that Kefauver had won the confidence of the American people "as no one has since" Franklin Roosevelt. He assailed what he called the "bossism" of the Democratic state high command, which wants to deliver all 94 of New York's presidential delegates to W. Averell Harriman mutual security administration.

Mauhs said he resented what he described as an attempt by the Democratic state leaders to "deliver" New York's entire delegate bloc to Harriman "four days before the primary election" on April 22, when the delegates were elected.

Miss Rose Frances Nanna, daughter of Venduro Nanna and the late Mrs. Dominica Nanna, 65 South Manor avenue, became the bride of Victor Semenjuk, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Semenjuk, Lomontville, on Saturday, May 3, at 1:30 p. m. in St. Joseph's Church. Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white satin and Margot lace styled with fitted bodice, long pointed sleeves, illusion yoke and a bouffant skirt fashioned with a side drape and terminating in a cathedral train. Her finger-tip length veil was attached to a headpiece of net and pearls. She carried a bouquet of white roses.

The bridesmaids, the Misses Lucille and Dorothy Pisano, 45 Levan street, wore gowns styled like the honor attendants, in colors maize and pink and carried red and pink roses, respectively.

The Misses Nancy Nanna, niece of the bride, and Angelica Semenjuk, sister of the bridegroom, were flower girls. Their colonial styled white gowns were fashioned with hoop skirts. They carried old fashioned bouquets.

Walter Bakenko of Detroit, Mich., was his brother-in-law's best man. The ushers were Wasily M. Nichenko of Newfield, N. J., and Nickeloi Bielzmaz. Michael Prospero of Highland was ringbearer.

Upon their return from a wedding trip to Detroit, Mich., the couple will reside in Lomontville. For traveling, the bride chose a grey suit with red accessories and a corsage of white roses.

Mrs. Semenjuk graduated from St. Mary's School and attended Kingston High School. She is employed at the Kingston Knitting Mills.

Fairless Heads U. S. Steel Board

New York, May 7 (AP)—Benjamin F. Fairless took over full direction of the nation's largest steel producer today, following the retirement of Irving S. Olds as chairman of the United States Steel Corp.

Olds retired yesterday from his $211,000-a-year job, and Fairless immediately was named the new chairman of the board of directors.

Fairless will continue as the president of the steel industry giant, making him the first man in the corporation's 50-year history to hold both posts. He also was appointed chief executive officer.

Fairless, a coal miner's son who became U. S. Steel's president at the start of 1938, earned $261,000 with the corporation last year.

The shifts in the corporation's direction were announced here yesterday following the annual organization meeting of U. S. Steel directors.

In Post Since 1940

Olds had been chairman since he succeeded the late Secretary of State Edward R. Stettinius on June 4, 1940. Olds' retirement came just a little more than three months after he reached the corporation's retirement age of 65.

Yesterday's announcement said Olds would continue as a director and member of the corporation's finance committee. A specialist in corporate law, Olds will resume active law practice with the New York firm of White & Case.

Olds is entitled to a pension of $14,399 a year. His deferred salary contract will give him an additional $50,000 annually. A company statement said Olds earned an estimated $65,204 last year after taxes as chairman.

The statement put Fairless' salary at $72,054 after taxes.

Long Memory

Alhambra, Calif. (AP) — Most people can remember back to the Dempsey-Tunney fight and some even to China's Boxer Rebellion, but Allen Graff remembers the great Kansas grasshopper plague in 1870. Graff celebrated his 92nd birthday recently with his usual daily routine. He washed the breakfast dishes, vacuumed the rugs, helped with the washing and ironing and took a mile walk. Good food, lots of sleep, no drinking or smoking is the answer to his good health and long life, Graff says. He doesn't think being a bachelor all his life has anything to do with it.

Holdup Mistake

Herrin, Ill. (AP) — Ed Childers, chortled that two teen-aged boys who held him up made a little mistake—he was hitching a ride to get unemployment compensation. Childers said they searched him for money, but finding none, drove on. They claimed they were only kidding and that their gun was just a toy. They dropped him off in here, apologized, and handed him a dollar, he said.

A Million Dollars to Relieve Piles

It is estimated that over a million dollars a year is spent on varied remedies to relieve piles. Yet druggists tell you that cooling, astringent Peterson's Ointment soothes pile torture in minutes. 40c box or 70c tube applicator. Peterson's Ointment gives fast, joyful relief from itching. Long Memory

Alhambra, Calif. (AP) — Most people can remember back to the Dempsey-Tunney fight and some even to China's Boxer Rebellion, but Allen Graff remembers the great Kansas grasshopper plague in 1870. Graff celebrated his 92nd birthday recently with his usual daily routine. He washed the breakfast dishes, vacuumed the rugs, helped with the washing and ironing and took a mile walk. Good food, lots of sleep, no drinking or smoking is the answer to his good health and long life, Graff says. He doesn't think being a bachelor all his life has anything to do with it.

Kingston Lumber Keglers' 3156 Lands High on Standing Board

Kentucky Officials Share Blame for Fix But Slap Judge Saul Streit on Wrist

Lexington, Ky., May 7 (AP)—The University of Kentucky acknowledged today its administrative officials and athletics staff are partially responsible for the basketball scandal that struck the school.

It said "never again shall a scandal besmirch the name of their university" because it was resolved to make reforms that would avoid it.

Eleven officials including Governor Wetherby and President H. L. Donovan of the university signed a preliminary statement replying to Judge Saul Streit of New York who denounced Kentucky's athletic spending and policies.

The judge let forth his multiple-charge blast a week ago as he gave suspended sentences to former Kentucky cagers Alex Groza, Ralph Beard and Dale Barnstable who admitted taking bribes to fix games. The jurist was particularly harsh on Adolph Rupp, veteran basketball coach, and said he and the school must share responsibility.

Blast Judge Streit

The university replied "we do not contend that our record in this affair is above criticism. . . . But in establishing an athletics program. . . . We affirm that we shall be answerable to the people of Kentucky, to the N.C.A.A., and to our regional associations and that our policies will not be dictated by Judge Streit."

The school hit at the New York angle of the cage scandal which spread to eight schools and 30-odd players.

"It would be well for Judge Streit to remind himself that not the least responsible, by any means, are those who have tolerated the unsavory environment in which Madison Square Garden operates."

The report asserted "there were no basketball fixes" before the collegiate game became a major Garden attraction. It added:

"University administrators and coaches have erred in several respects, but one of their gravest errors was in ever permitting a basketball team to play in Madison Square Garden."

Ned Irish who brought college basketball into the Garden, was not available for comment.

Locals Muff Big Chance In Last Frame Letdown

Kingston Lumber Company keglers were on the threshold of big things when the last frame of their state tournament match started last night at the Bowlodrome.

They had a chance to soar high on the standing board with a fat 3200. Not enough to oust Fromer Amocos' 3249 but they could have toppled enough sticks to slice a big share of five-man prize melon.

They had socked 1023 and 1100 gross scores for a rousing 2123 going into the third game and this marked the first serious threat by a Kingston team in several days.

The going was rough in the early frames but they squared away nicely, principally because of sensational shooting by 158-average Don Tomczyk, who racked up a 234.

Trouble started when leadoff Mitzie Arlensky blew a one-pin spare. A couple of taps followed but big money was still in sight when anchor Ralph Mayone came up on alley 7 and drew the 5-7 split on a good looking hit. It gave the Lumbermen a 1033 gross for an overall 3156.

It takes 3170 to make the standing board at the moment.

Tomczyk Is Star

The 3156 will pay handsome dividends, however, and a share and a half should go to Tomczyk, who parlayed a 158 average and good clutch bowling into a 573 series, a mere 99 pins over his average.

Arlensky struggled hard for a 522 in the leadoff spot. Pete Tatarzewski socked 202-548 and William "Bud" Evans rolled 235-566 in the sub-anchor. Ralph Mayone behaved like an anchor should by toppling 237-211-199-647. His 689 gross led the squad. The Lumbermen had a highly creditable 2856 net score.

Saugerties Hits 3084

Saugerties Recreation rolled into the prize money with a 3034 gross. Herman Duley's 631 gross led the squad. Ray Roux gave Martin's Market a 627 net and 678 gross to spark a 3017 in the money score. Roland Post fired 652 gross.

Len Studt's 620 paced Callanan's 2933 series and Ken Schupp had 614 for the Barn which hit 2929. Slover-Jansen-Schline flirted with the fringes of the prize list on a 2907 series.

Orville "Pop" Van Alstyne shot 621 gross to put hi min the "1900" all-events class.

Other in-the-money totals were fashioned by Lucas Grocers, Poughkeepsie, 2950; Public Safety, Rochester, 2988; Cubs, Albany, 2927; Hotel Dansville, Dansville, 2991.

YMCA Plans Four-Team Softball League For Saturday Games at Athletic Field

YMCA youngsters between the ages of 8 and 11 have been organized into a four-team softball league for Saturday morning games at the Athletic Field.

Lou Schafer, Y physical director, and Clarence "Chic" Corell, Y Boys Secretary, will supervise the league.

A second diamond has been set up in deep right field so that two games can be played simultaneously. One older boy from the Y Cadet division will be the pitcher and all games will be seven innings in duration.

The league is designed to stress hitting, Schafer points out. For that reason it was decided to have the older boys serve as pitchers. This would assure better control and a greater frequency of pitches within the strike zone.

Teams in the league have assumed the nicknames of major league clubs — Giants, Yankees, Dodgers and Pirates.

The team personnel follows:

Giants—Ray Christiana, captain; Quinn Bern, Richard Marcus, Joseph Mitchell, Richard Duffy, William Rodden, James La Baugh, Robert Miller, Thomas Wisnewski, Alvin Carlson, John Trammell.

Dodgers—Jim Cullum, captain; Myron Elting, James Fuoco, Richard Segelken, George Taylor, Thomas Koulas, Richard Coughlin, Andy Dykes, Fred Barnenian.

Yankees—Peter Ferraro, captain; Paul Celuch, Daniel Tierney, David Mannello, Warren Swart, Stephen Krosner, Bick Morris, Ralph Hutton, Daniel Devine, Jack Fisher.

Regular Baseball

The Y Cadet boys group, ages 12 to 14, had 22 boys report for baseball at the Athletic Field last Saturday and games between choose-up sides will be a regular Saturday feature. Games will run from 11 a. m. to 12:30 noon.

All players in the Cadet age group are invited to participate. Lou Schafer is also in charge of this league.

Swimming in the Y pool follows all softball and baseball games.

Davey-Vejar Bout Stirs Chicago Fans

Chicago, May 7 (AP)—Professional boxing's big time will be waiting off-canvas tonight for the winner of the 10-round Chicago Stadium bout between young and lusty Chico Vejar and studious Chuck Davey.

The victor of this rare match featuring two college men has been promised a shot at Kid Gavilan's welterweight championship. This would be an exceedingly rewarding venture judging by the way the Vejar-Davey fight has caught on here.

Promoters are predicting a turnout of 10,000 fans and a gate of more than $40,000, not including proceeds derived from sale of radio and television rights. The bout will be broadcast and televised nationally 10 p. m. EDT).

Vejar's manager, Steve Ellis, has obtained permission from Davey and his handlers for a 151-pound weight limits instead of the 150 pounds stipulated earlier in the International Boxing Club contract. Ellis says his 20-year-old fighter from Stamford, Conn., is still growing and sometimes is weakened by shedding pounds too fast.

Grandpa Second In ABC All-Events

Milwaukee, May 7 (AP)—Maybe it pays to be a grandfather at 43. Maybe it helps your bowling game.

Roy Granneman of Waterloo, Ia., who is under this category, slammed a sizzling 1,957 yesterday to go into second place in the all events of the American Bowling Congress tournament.

He started off with a sound 636 in the team event Monday night and got "hotter" as he went along yesterday. He had 649 in doubles and 672 in singles to trail all events leader Steve Nagy of Cleveland by 108 pins. Nagy has been out in front since April 18 with 2,065.

Granneman, who manages a bowling alley and carries a 201 average, shot 185, 238 and 213 in team; 179, 224 and 246 in doubles, and 226, 203 and 243 in singles. His singles count was second high for the day.

Laurels in doubles yesterday were shared by a Syracuse, N. Y., duo and a pair from Sioux City, Ia., at 1,252.

New Yorkers Vito Caloia and Frank Lanasa were tied by Iowans Ray Norton and Louis Overstreet. The former hit games of 434, 422 and 396 and the latter counted 463, 396 and 393. Overstreet had the best three games with 679.

Don Evans Here Friday Against Wally Dern

Shares Top Billing With Pat O'Connor

Local wrestling fans will have another opportunity to see "The Killer" in action on Friday night's show at the municipal auditorium.

Big Don Evans, who operates a farm in nearby Flatbush, goes against Wally Dern, New Orleans artist, a veteran who has engaged in 600 matches in six years.

The "Kingston Killer" as Evans has been aptly nicknamed will share the spotlight with Irish Pat O'Connor, the sensational New Zealander who is undefeated in America and is Verne Gagne's only rival for Saturday night TV affections.

Evans has been a sensational performer in three Kingston appearances and Dern is the kind of opponent that should bring out the best in the Killer.

Was Clean Grappler

Early in his career Evans was known as one of the cleanest, most scientific wrestlers in the game. He was and still is a terrific worker who gives the customers a run for their money. However, a broken leg suffered in a match with a rough-house opponent put him on the shelf for six months and revised Don's philosophy about the wrestling game.

From then on he turned to rough-house style and has earned a reputation as one of the most rugged characters in professional wrestling. In Dern, a one-time artist who once plied his trade in Greenwich Village, Evans meets an opponent who can go either way—clean or rough house. It will be interesting to see what trend the bout takes Friday night.

New TV Rage

O'Connor, the New Zealand Irishman, is the hottest item in the wrestling game today. He is the only man able to vie with Verne Gagne for TV rating and has attracted record crowds everywhere.

The Irishman drew 2500 fans in 56-degree temperature Monday night at Troy Arena when he defeated Dern in two straight falls. His opponent Friday is Tiger Joe Tasker of St. Louis.

O'Connor was especially effective with a flying dropkick which started from the outside apron of the ring and ended by felling Dern for the first fall.

The show opens with a 30-minute bout between Joe Muscato, former Buffalo heavyweight boxing contender, and John Heidman, the St. Louis strong man, who made an impression here during the Johnston era.

Gun Directors Meet

The regular monthly meeting of the Lake Katrine Rod and Gun Club, Inc., will be held tonight at 8 o'clock at Jake's Grill. All members of the entertainment committee are also requested to attend as final arrangements for the cabaret dance to be held Saturday night at the Elks Club will be discussed.

Kingston Lumber Keglers' 3156 Lands High on Standing Board

Kentucky Officials Share Blame for Fix But Slap Judge Saul Streit on Wrist

Lexington, Ky., May 7 (AP)—The University of Kentucky acknowledged today its administrative officials and athletics staff are partially responsible for the basketball scandal that struck the school.

It said "never again shall a scandal besmirch the name of their university" because it was resolved to make reforms that would avoid it.

Eleven officials including Governor Wetherby and President H. L. Donovan of the university signed a preliminary statement replying to Judge Saul Streit of New York who denounced Kentucky's athletic spending and policies.

The judge let forth his multiple-charge blast a week ago as he gave suspended sentences to former Kentucky cagers Alex Groza, Ralph Beard and Dale Barnstable who admitted taking bribes to fix games. The jurist was particularly harsh on Adolph Rupp, veteran basketball coach, and said he and the school must share responsibility.

Blast Judge Streit

The university replied "we do not contend that our record in this affair is above criticism. . . . But in establishing an athletics program. . . . We affirm that we shall be answerable to the people of Kentucky, to the N.C.A.A., and to our regional associations and that our policies will not be dictated by Judge Streit."

The school hit at the New York angle of the cage scandal which spread to eight schools and 30-odd players.

"It would be well for Judge Streit to remind himself that not the least responsible, by any means, are those who have tolerated the unsavory environment in which Madison Square Garden operates."

The report asserted "there were no basketball fixes" before the collegiate game became a major Garden attraction. It added:

"University administrators and coaches have erred in several respects, but one of their gravest errors was in ever permitting a basketball team to play in Madison Square Garden."

Ned Irish who brought college basketball into the Garden, was not available for comment.

Locals Muff Big Chance In Last Frame Letdown

Kingston Lumber Company keglers were on the threshold of big things when the last frame of their state tournament match started last night at the Bowlodrome.

They had a chance to soar high on the standing board with a fat 3200. Not enough to oust Fromer Amocos' 3249 but they could have toppled enough sticks to slice a big share of five-man prize melon.

They had socked 1023 and 1100 gross scores for a rousing 2123 going into the third game and this marked the first serious threat by a Kingston team in several days.

The going was rough in the early frames but they squared away nicely, principally because of sensational shooting by 158-average Don Tomczyk, who racked up a 234.

Trouble started when leadoff Mitzie Arlensky blew a one-pin spare. A couple of taps followed but big money was still in sight when anchor Ralph Mayone came up on alley 7 and drew the 5-7 split on a good looking hit. It gave the Lumbermen a 1033 gross for an overall 3156.

It takes 3170 to make the standing board at the moment.

Tomczyk Is Star

The 3156 will pay handsome dividends, however, and a share and a half should go to Tomczyk, who parlayed a 158 average and good clutch bowling into a 573 series, a mere 99 pins over his average.

Arlensky struggled hard for a 522 in the leadoff spot. Pete Tatarzewski socked 202-548 and William "Bud" Evans rolled 235-566 in the sub-anchor. Ralph Mayone behaved like an anchor should by toppling 237-211-199-647. His 689 gross led the squad. The Lumbermen had a highly creditable 2856 net score.

Saugerties Hits 3034

Saugerties Recreation rolled into the prize money with a 3034 gross. Herman Dudley's 631 gross led the squad. Ray Roux gave Martin's Market a 627 net and 678 gross to spark a 3017 in the money score. Roland Post fired 652 gross.

Len Studt's 620 paced Callanan's 2933 series and Ken Schupp had 614 for the Barn which hit 2929. Slover-Jansen-Schline flirted with the fringes of the prize list on a 2907 series.

Orville "Pop" Van Alstyne shot 621 gross to put hi min the "1900" all-events class.

Other in-the-money totals were fashioned by Lucas Grocers, Poughkeepsie, 2950; Public Safety, Rochester, 2988; Cubs, Albany, 2927; Hotel Dansville, Dansville, 2991.

YMCA Plans Four-Team Softball League For Saturday Games at Athletic Field

YMCA youngsters between the ages of 8 and 11 have been organized into a four-team softball league for Saturday morning games at the Athletic Field.

Lou Schafer, Y physical director, and Clarence "Chic" Corell, Y Boys Secretary, will supervise the league.

A second diamond has been set up in deep right field so that two games can be played simultaneously. One older boy from the Y Cadet division will be the pitcher and all games will be seven innings in duration.

The league is designed to stress hitting, Schafer points out. For that reason it was decided to have the older boys serve as pitchers. This would assure better control and a greater frequency of pitches within the strike zone.

Teams in the league have assumed the nicknames of major league clubs — Giants, Yankees, Dodgers and Pirates.

The team personnel follows:

Giants—Ray Christiana, captain; Quinn Bern, Richard Marcus, Joseph Mitchell, Richard Duffy, William Rodden, James La Baugh, Robert Miller, Thomas Wisnewski, Alvin Carlson, John Trammell.

Dodgers—Jim Cullum, captain; Myron Elting, James Fuoco, Richard Segelken, George Taylor, Thomas Koulas, Richard Coughlin, Andy Dykes, Fred Barnenian.

Yankees—Peter Ferraro, captain; Paul Celuch, Daniel Tierney, David Mannello, Warren Swart, Stephen Krosner, Bick Morris, Ralph Hutton, Daniel Devine, Jack Fisher.

Regular Baseball

The Y Cadet boys group, ages 12 to 14, had 22 boys report for baseball at the Athletic Field last Saturday and games between choose-up sides will be a regular Saturday feature. Games will run from 11 a. m. to 12:30 noon.

All players in the Cadet age group are invited to participate. Lou Schafer is also in charge of this league.

Swimming in the Y pool follows all softball and baseball games.

Grandpa Second In ABC All-Events

Milwaukee, May 7 (AP)—Maybe it pays to be a grandfather at 43. Maybe it helps your bowling game.

Roy Granneman of Waterloo, Ia., who is under this category, slammed a sizzling 1,957 yesterday to go into second place in the all events of the American Bowling Congress tournament.

He started off with a sound 636 in the team event Monday night and got "hotter" as he went along yesterday. He had 649 in doubles and 672 in singles to trail all events leader Steve Nagy of Cleveland by 108 pins. Nagy has been out in front since April 18 with 2,065.

Granneman, who manages a bowling alley and carries a 201 average, shot 185, 238 and 213 in team; 179, 224 and 246 in doubles, and 226, 203 and 243 in singles. His singles count was second high for the day.

Laurels in doubles yesterday were shared by a Syracuse, N. Y., duo and a pair from Sioux City, Ia., at 1,252.

New Yorkers Vito Caloia and Frank Lanasa were tied by Iowans Ray Norton and Louis Overstreet. The former hit games of 434, 422 and 396 and the latter counted 463, 396 and 393. Overstreet had the best three games with 679.

Davey-Vejar Bout Stirs Chicago Fans

Chicago, May 7 (AP)—Professional boxing's big time will be waiting off-canvas tonight for the winner of the 10-round Chicago Stadium bout between young and lusty Chico Vejar and studious Chuck Davey.

The victor of this rare match featuring two college men has been promised a shot at Kid Gavilan's welterweight championship. This would be an exceedingly rewarding venture judging by the way the Vejar-Davey fight has caught on here.

Promoters are predicting a turnout of 10,000 fans and a gate of more than $40,000, not including proceeds derived from sale of radio and television rights. The bout will be broadcast and televised nationally 10 p. m. EDT).

Vejar's manager, Steve Ellis, has obtained permission from Davey and his handlers for a 151-pound weight limits instead of the 150 pounds stipulated earlier in the International Boxing Club contract. Ellis says his 20-year-old fighter from Stamford, Conn., is still growing and sometimes is weakened by shedding pounds too fast.

Don Evans Here Friday Against Wally Dern

Shares Top Billing With Pat O'Connor

Local wrestling fans will have another opportunity to see "The Killer" in action on Friday night's show at the municipal auditorium.

Big Don Evans, who operates a farm in nearby Flatbush, goes against Wally Dern, New Orleans artist, a veteran who has engaged in 600 matches in six years.

The "Kingston Killer" as Evans has been aptly nicknamed will share the spotlight with Irish Pat O'Connor, the sensational New Zealander who is undefeated in America and is Verne Gagne's only rival for Saturday night TV affections.

Evans has been a sensational performer in three Kingston appearances and Dern is the kind of opponent that should bring out the best in the Killer.

Was Clean Grappler

Early in his career Evans was known as one of the cleanest, most scientific wrestlers in the game. He was and still is a terrific worker who gives the customers a run for their money. However, a broken leg suffered in a match with a rough-house opponent put him on the shelf for six months and revised Don's philosophy about the wrestling game.

From then on he turned to rough-house style and has earned a reputation as one of the most rugged characters in professional wrestling. In Dern, a one-time artist who once plied his trade in Greenwich Village, Evans meets an opponent who can go either way—clean or rough house. It will be interesting to see what trend the bout takes Friday night.

New TV Rage

O'Connor, the New Zealand Irishman, is the hottest item in the wrestling game today. He is the only man able to vie with Verne Gagne for TV rating and has attracted record crowds everywhere.

The Irishman drew 2500 fans in 56-degree temperature Monday night at Troy Arena when he defeated Dern in two straight falls. His opponent Friday is Tiger Joe Tasker of St. Louis.

O'Connor was especially effective with a flying dropkick which started from the outside apron of the ring and ended by felling Dern for the first fall.

The show opens with a 30-minute bout between Joe Muscato, former Buffalo heavyweight boxing contender, and John Heidman, the St. Louis strong man, who made an impression here during the Johnston era.

The SCOREBoard

By JOE REICHLER

Steve Gromek, 32-year-old righthander from Hamtramck, Mich., qualifies as a Yankee killer for the Cleveland Indians.

The veteran right hander, considered a second stringer on the Indian mound staff, pitched a neat 1-0 four-hitter in beating the Yanks and Allie Reynolds last night for the third time.

The last time Gromek started against the Yanks in Yankee Stadium—May 19, 1949—he trimmed the Bombers, 3-2. The time before that—in Cleveland in 1948—he downed the Yanks, 2-1.

Gromek's shutout was the first time a Cleveland pitcher has blanked the Yanks since Bob Feller's no-hitter in April, 1946.

Steve not only handcuffed the Yanks with four singles but had the crowd of 35,914 limp at the finish when he retired the last three batters with the potential tying run on base.

Finishes With Flourish

The second string Indian starter wrote finis to his spectacular triumph by striking out Gene Woodling on three pitches. This is the same Woodling who hit five home runs against the Indians last year, each contributing to a victory. And this is the same Yankee team that defeated the Tribe 10 times in 11 meetings at Yankee Stadium last year. Moreover, in beating Reynolds, he whipped at pitcher who thrashed the Indians five times last year, three times on shutouts, twice by a 1-0 score, and once via no-hitter.

"Credit the sinker I developed during spring training," Gromek said afterwards.

Score In Second

The Indians' tally off Reynolds came in the second inning. It was scored on singles by Dale Mitchell, Ray Boone and Birdier Tebbetts. Cleveland's triumph, in the first clash of the season between the two leading contenders for the American League flag, kept the Indians within one game of the first place Boston Red Sox, who trounced the Chicago White Sox, 11-2.

A pair of homers by Clyde Vollmer and another by Walter Dropo made it easy for Red Sox righthander Willard Nixon to register his first triumph.

Conrado Marrero pitched the third place Washigton Senators to their fifth straight victory with a 5-2 win over Detroit. Again Jackie Jensen and Archie Wilson, obtained from the Yankees last Saturday, were the big guns on attack for the Nats. Jensen doubled, drove in a run, stole a base and scored twice. Wilson hit a single and triple, scored once and batted in a run.

Duane Pillette pitched the St. Louis Browns back into the winning column with a 5-1 triumph over the Philadelphia Athletics as Marty Marion and Clint Courtney each hit homers.

Dodgers Take First

Brooklyn's Dodgers moved past New York's Giants into first place in the National League with a tenth inning 5-4 victory over the Cincinnati Reds. Andy Pafko scored the winning run in the tenth. He tripled off Ken Raffensberger and scored on a fly by Carl Furillo.

Teeing off on former teammate Max Lanier and a parade of five additional hurlers for 15 hits, Eddie Stanky's St. Lous Cardinals snapped the Giants' seven-game winning streak with a 9-4 triumph.

Robin Roberts hurled a brilliant two-hitter as the Philadelphia Phils snapped a four-game losing streak with a 6-0 victory over Pittsburgh.

Johnny Klippstein pitched the Chicago Cubs to a three-hit 2-0 shutout over the Boston Braves in the only game played in daylight.

Yesterday's Stars

(By The Associated Press)

Batting — Clyde Vollmer, Red Sox—Hammered two homers, a single and a double in four times at bat and drove in six runs to lead the Red Sox to an 11-2 triumph over the Chicago White Sox.

Pitching — Steve Gromek, Indians—Pitched the Indians to a brilliant 1-0 victory over New York and Allie Reynolds, limiting the Yankees to four scattered singles at Yankee Stadium.

Snowshoe Postman

Rawlins, Wyo. (AP)—Jack Bechtold, Dixon mail carrier, hopes for an early spring. Snow forced him to use snowshoes to deliver his route in the mountainous Medicine Bow National Forest. It takes him four days to travel 25 miles to deliver mail to five ranches.

Dog Saved From Death

New York (AP) — Skippy almost went to the gas chamber as a three-time loser. The 2-year-old white fox terrier was on trial before a health department official, accused of biting his third victim. All seven members of his owner's family turned out to tell the judge how Skippy had saved their lives by awakening them when fire broke out in their home last December. Then the latest "bite" victim admitted he had really only been scrached. Skippy went free.

The SCOREBoard

By JOE REICHLER

Steve Gromek, 32-year-old righthander from Hamtramck, Mich., qualifies as a Yankee killer for the Cleveland Indians.

The veteran right hander, considered a second stringer on the Indian mound staff, pitched a neat 1-0 four-hitter in beating the Yanks and Allie Reynolds last night for the third time.

The last time Gromek started against the Yanks in Yankee Stadium—May 19, 1949—he trimmed the Bombers, 3-2. The time before that—in Cleveland in 1948—he downed the Yanks, 2-1.

Gromek's shutout was the first time a Cleveland pitcher has blanked the Yanks since Bob Feller's no-hitter in April, 1946.

Steve not only handcuffed the Yanks with four singles but had the crowd of 35,914 limp at the finish when he retired the last three batters with the potential tying run on base.

Finishes With Flourish

The second string Indian starter wrote finis to his spectacular triumph by striking out Gene Woodling on three pitches. This is the same Woodling who hit five home runs against the Indians last year, each contributing to a victory. And this is the same Yankee team that defeated the Tribe 10 times in 11 meetings at Yankee Stadium last year. Moreover, in beating Reynolds, he whipped at pitcher who thrashed the Indians five times last year, three times on shutouts, twice by a 1-0 score, and once via no-hitter.

"Credit the sinker I developed during spring training," Gromek said afterwards.

Score In Second

The Indians' tally off Reynolds came in the second inning. It was scored on singles by Dale Mitchell, Ray Boone and Birdier Tebbetts. Cleveland's triumph, in the first clash of the season between the two leading contenders for the American League flag, kept the Indians within one game of the first place Boston Red Sox, who trounced the Chicago White Sox, 11-2.

A pair of homers by Clyde Vollmer and another by Walter Dropo made it easy for Red Sox righthander Willard Nixon to register his first triumph.

Conrado Marrero pitched the third place Washigton Senators to their fifth straight victory with a 5-2 win over Detroit. Again Jackie Jensen and Archie Wilson, obtained from the Yankees last Saturday, were the big guns on attack for the Nats. Jensen doubled, drove in a run, stole a base and scored twice. Wilson hit a single and triple, scored once and batted in a run.

Duane Pillette pitched the St. Louis Browns back into the winning column with a 5-1 triumph over the Philadelphia Athletics as Marty Marion and Clint Courtney each hit homers.

Dodgers Take First

Brooklyn's Dodgers moved past New York's Giants into first place in the National League with a tenth inning 5-4 victory over the Cincinnati Reds. Andy Pafko scored the winning run in the tenth. He tripled off Ken Raffensberger and scored on a fly by Carl Furillo.

Teeing off on former teammate Max Lanier and a parade of five additional hurlers for 15 hits, Eddie Stanky's St. Lous Cardinals snapped the Giants' seven-game winning streak with a 9-4 triumph.

Robin Roberts hurled a brilliant two-hitter as the Philadelphia Phils snapped a four-game losing streak with a 6-0 victory over Pittsburgh.

Johnny Klippstein pitched the Chicago Cubs to a three-hit 2-0 shutout over the Boston Braves in the only game played in daylight.

Yesterday's Stars

(By The Associated Press)

Batting — Clyde Vollmer, Red Sox—Hammered two homers, a single and a double in four times at bat and drove in six runs to lead the Red Sox to an 11-2 triumph over the Chicago White Sox.

Pitching — Steve Gromek, Indians—Pitched the Indians to a brilliant 1-0 victory over New York and Allie Reynolds, limiting the Yankees to four scattered singles at Yankee Stadium.

Snowshoe Postman

Rawlins, Wyo. (AP)—Jack Bechtold, Dixon mail carrier, hopes for an early spring. Snow forced him to use snowshoes to deliver his route in the mountainous Medicine Bow National Forest. It takes him four days to travel 25 miles to deliver mail to five ranches.

Newark, N. J.—Texas Gonzales, 152, East Orange, outpointed Joe Tomasello, 154½, Matawan, 8.

Dog Saved From Death

New York (AP) — Skippy almost went to the gas chamber as a three-time loser. The 2-year-old white fox terrier was on trial before a health department official, accused of biting his third victim. All seven members of his owner's family turned out to tell the judge how Skippy had saved their lives by awakening them when fire broke out in their home last December. Then the latest "bite" victim admitted he had really only been scrached. Skippy went free.

Wolves Shot From Plane

Fairbanks, Alaska (AP)—Two U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service agents returned here with a report of having killed 110 wolves in three weeks of hunting in a light, two-man plane. Four other agents reported a kill of 61. Three airplanes have been used in the biggest scale campaign ever waged in the Far North against wolves which cause damage among the caribou herds.

WOODSTOCK NEWS

By RICHARD E. THIBAUT, Jr.

'Voice' Director Will Reside Here

Woodstock, May 7 — Walter Ducloux, music director for the Voice of America, and one of the five experts who appear on the radio quiz panel between the acts each Saturday afternoon during the Metropolitan Opera season, will be a resident of Woodstock this summer. Ducloux and his wife spent the weekend at the cottage on the Peter Whitehead property in Byrdcliffe, occupied last summer by conductor Leon Barzin who will travel and conduct in Europe this summer.

Ducloux, who is also a conductor and has appeared as guest conductor of the NBC Symphony and the New York City Symphony, first came to this country from his native Switzerland as assistant to Toscanini. He obtained his musical education at the State Academy in Vienna and the University of Munich.

Beamed Around World

Explaining his work with the Voice of America, Ducloux said that the organization serviced radio stations all over the world through radio offices abroad who are members of this country's major diplomatic missions. The Voice's short wave stations are beamed around the globe, with programs presented in 46 languages.

In the overseas operations, the Voice is sending out programs on disks or platters or tape for local rebroadcast in various countries abroad. Ducloux's friend, through whom he came to Woodstock, Robert Bauer, well-known to residents here, is chief of the overseas service branch. Bauer who spends considerable time when in this country at his home here, is in Europe at present.

Many Hear Voice

Ducloux said "that it is estimated that one-quarter of the Czechoslovaks hear our Voice."

"If it were not so effective," he observed, "so many Russian newspapers would not publish articles refuting statements made by the Voice or continually attack it."

"We are able to predict," he went on, "coming events, like the devaluation of money in Russia. It caused a buying spree and raised havoc with their economy. The Russians, of course deny it, but it happens."

There are not enough radio stations in the Iron Curtain countries, he explained, so they are dependent on short wave reception. Consequently the moment they get short wave they get our broadcasts. The Russians make such frantic efforts to jam the Voice of America that at one time they had 200 transmitters working to overcome it. The Voice, however, beams one broadcast on many channels simultaneously. There is plenty of evidence that the Czechoslovakians, Poles, and Hungarians are hungry for news, of which he has personal testimony.

Music for Slave Camps

For musical material for the broadcasts, Ducloux has a wide choice, opera, symphony, the folk songs of the south and southwest, as well as the rich heritage of songs brought to this country from foreign lands. Recently he directed a program of Russian songs sung in slave labor camps in the Soviet Union. After investigation he found that the songs jived with those sung by escaped prisoners from the slave camps. Illegal in Russia, the Voice decided to use them on the official May 1 program of the broadcast. They are so powerful, he reported, that it was decided to use them as evidence that these camps do exist. The Russians, of course, claim that they are a fake, but there are millions who know they are not.

Ducloux, who will bring his wife, infant son and two-year-old daughter to Woodstock within a week or two for the summer, spent two years in the army on the personal staff of the late General George Patton. A non-commissioned officer serving in the intelligence, Ducloux described Gen. Patton as a "wonderful man to work with, and above all he was a soldier."

$58,630 Budget Set By School Board

Woodstock, May 7 — Robert Gordon was elected trustee of the Woodstock School Board to serve for a term of three years Tuesday night at the annual school meeting at the school auditorium. Gordon will replace Lorenzo B. Stowell, who was given a vote of thanks for his nine years of loyal service to the district.

All of the issues voted upon during the meeting were carried unanimously. Stowell called the meeting to order and John Egan was elected chairman of the meeting.

Other school district officers elected were Mrs. Marjory Harder, re-elected to serve another year as collector-treasurer, and Mrs. Winifred Hutty, re-elected for another year as district clerk.

Tax Rate $31.50

The budget for the year 1952 was unanimously approved as presented, a total of $58,630.50, of which $33,793 is to be raised by local taxes. The maximum tax per thousand for the coming year is $31.50. It was explained that the figure may be less, but that it would not exceed the maximum amount.

Leon Carey and William J. Melville served as tellers.

Also unanimously passed was the proposal to adjust the boundaries of the school property and the adjoining Cardone property.

The other school board trustees whose terms have not expired are Mrs. Mary Rapp and Adolph Heckeroth.

It was announced that the auditing committee for 1952-53 will be Mrs. Theodore Lee, William J. Melville and Lloyd Lund.

Mrs. Hutty read a letter from Lewis A. Wilson, commissioner of education, State Education Department, Albany, stating that "this annual school meeting is one in which you are fulfilling your civic duty."

Village Notes

Woodstock, May 7—Clark Bell, son of Mrs. Jerry Jerominek, will return to his home here June 3 from St. Johns Kanty Preparatory School at Erie, Pa. He will be at Deanie's again this summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry B. Wehle will spend next weekend at their home on Glasco Turnpike.

Mrs. Cy Harriman will return to her home in this village, with her two children, May 10.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Van Rensselaer are moving to their new trailer home in Wittenberg.

Mrs. Bev Anderson has returned from a trip to Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Hartmann came from New York to spend the weekend at their home here.

Mr. and Mrs. John Nichols are spending the summer at Newport, R. I.

A. L. Sainer, co-owner of the Woodstock Playhouse, spent the weekend in this village with his sister, Mrs. Robert H. Harris, who will also be associated with the theatre this summer.

Mr. and Mrs. James B. Turnbull, of Sawkill road, have left for a trip to Mexico.

Four Boys Die As Ditch Collapses

Safford, Ariz., May 7 (AP)—The sandy banks of an excavation for a sewer line crashed down on seven boys yesterday, killing four and pinning the others temporarily under tons of earth.

The dirt gave way suddenly as the youngsters were playing in the bottom of the nine-foot ditch.

The dust raised by the cave-in attracted Mrs. Enos Howard, who was coming out of her nearby home. She ran to the scene with a shovel and began screaming for help.

Police and firemen were summoned quickly, but were unable to bring up the four bodies in less than 20 minutes as the sand kept crumbling back into the hole.

The dead were Manuel Sanchez, 12; his two brothers, Junior, 10, and Mario, 5; and Rito Bencomo, 9.

The other three boys who were rescued unharmed were Peto Sanchez, 6; Henry Bencomo, 13; and Raymond Mata, 8. The Bencomos were brothers.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

Oil Coordinating

a hopeful note, but a spokesman for the Cities Service Oil Co., one of the largest firms hit by the strike, revealed a telegram had been sent to the WSB agreeing to resume negotiations.

The telegram also said Cities Service would resume operations if strikers would return to work.

In San Francisco, what was described as the best offer yet was rejected by CIO oil workers' negotiators. The offer—for a plant not on strike—included a 15-cent hourly wage boost and increased afternoon and graveyard shift differentials. The unions are asking 25 cents hourly.

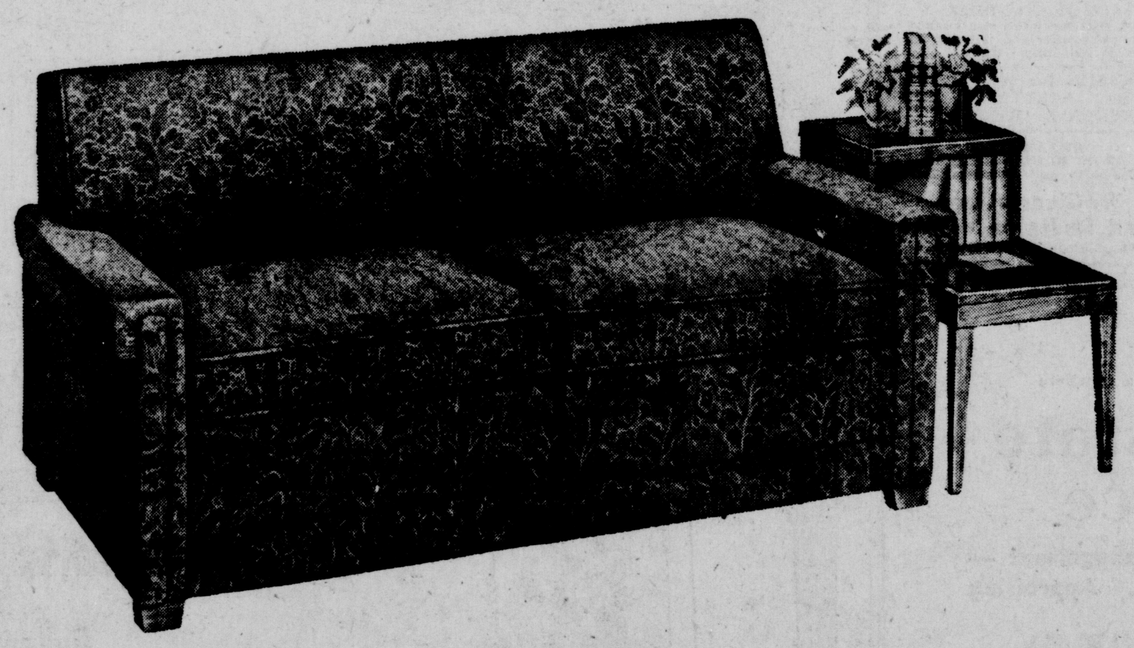

The average pay now ranges from $2 to $2.10 hourly and night shift differentials are 4 cents from 4 p. m. to midnight and 6 cents from midnight to 8 a. m. The unions want these increased to 6 and 12 cents respectively.

Reds Claim Inventions

London, May 7 (AP)—It's radio day in Russia, and the Moscow newspaper Izvestia announced with pride that Russia invented television. Izvestia, in an article broadcast by radio Moscow, did not name the inventor, but made the broadly sweeping claim: "Our country is the birthplace of such most important branches of radio technique as radio location, radio navigation, television, radio acoustics, and the use of high frequency current in industry." Russian scientist Alexander Popov is acclaimed by the Soviets as the inventor of radio.

WOODSTOCK NEWS

By RICHARD E. THIBAUT, Jr.

'Voice' Director Will Reside Here

Woodstock, May 7 — Walter Ducloux, music director for the Voice of America, and one of the five experts who appear on the radio quiz panel between the acts each Saturday afternoon during the Metropolitan Opera season, will be a resident of Woodstock this summer. Ducloux and his wife spent the weekend at the cottage on the Peter Whitehead property in Byrdcliffe, occupied last summer by conductor Leon Barzin who will travel and conduct in Europe this summer.

Ducloux, who is also a conductor and has appeared as guest conductor of the NBC Symphony and the New York City Symphony, first came to this country from his native Switzerland as assistant to Toscanini. He obtained his musical education at the State Academy in Vienna and the University of Munich.

Beamed Around World

Explaining his work with the Voice of America, Ducloux said that the organization serviced radio stations all over the world through radio offices abroad who are members of this country's major diplomatic missions. The Voice's short wave stations are beamed around the globe, with programs presented in 46 languages.

In the overseas operations, the Voice is sending out programs on disks or platters or tape for local rebroadcast in various countries abroad. Ducloux's friend, through whom he came to Woodstock, Robert Bauer, well-known to residents here, is chief of the overseas service branch. Bauer who spends considerable time when in this country at his home here, is in Europe at present.

Many Hear Voice

Ducloux said "that it is estimated that one-quarter of the Czechoslovaks hear our Voice."

"If it were not so effective," he observed, "so many Russian newspapers would not publish articles refuting statements made by the Voice or continually attack it."

"We are able to predict," he went on, "coming events, like the devaluation of money in Russia. It caused a buying spree and raised havoc with their economy. The Russians, of course deny it, but it happens."

There are not enough radio stations in the Iron Curtain countries, he explained, so they are dependent on short wave reception. Consequently the moment they get short wave they get our broadcasts. The Russians make such frantic efforts to jam the Voice of America that at one time they had 200 transmitters working to overcome it. The Voice, however, beams one broadcast on many channels simultaneously. There is plenty of evidence that the Czechoslovakians, Poles, and Hungarians are hungry for news, of which he has personal testimony.

Music for Slave Camps

For musical material for the broadcasts, Ducloux has a wide choice, opera, symphony, the folk songs of the south and southwest, as well as the rich heritage of songs brought to this country from foreign lands. Recently he directed a program of Russian songs sung in slave labor camps in the Soviet Union. After investigation he found that the songs jived with those sung by escaped prisoners from the slave camps. Illegal in Russia, the Voice decided to use them on the official May 1 program of the broadcast. They are so powerful, he reported, that it was decided to use them as evidence that these camps do exist. The Russians, of course, claim that they are a fake, but there are millions who know they are not.

Ducloux, who will bring his wife, infant son and two-year-old daughter to Woodstock within a week or two for the summer, spent two years in the army on the personal staff of the late General George Patton. A non-commissioned officer serving in the intelligence, Ducloux described Gen. Patton as a "wonderful man to work with, and above all he was a soldier."

$58,630 Budget Set By School Board

Woodstock, May 7 — Robert Gordon was elected trustee of the Woodstock School Board to serve for a term of three years Tuesday night at the annual school meeting at the school auditorium. Gordon will replace Lorenzo B. Stowell, who was given a vote of thanks for his nine years of loyal service to the district.

All of the issues voted upon during the meeting were carried unanimously. Stowell called the meeting to order and John Egan was elected chairman of the meeting.

Other school district officers elected were Mrs. Marjory Harder, re-elected to serve another year as collector-treasurer, and Mrs. Winifred Hutty, re-elected for another year as district clerk.

Tax Rate $31.50

The budget for the year 1952 was unanimously approved as presented, a total of $58,630.50, of which $33,793 is to be raised by local taxes. The maximum tax per thousand for the coming year is $31.50. It was explained that the figure may be less, but that it would not exceed the maximum amount.

Leon Carey and William J. Melville served as tellers.

Also unanimously passed was the proposal to adjust the boundaries of the school property and the adjoining Cardone property.

The other school board trustees whose terms have not expired are Mrs. Mary Rapp and Adolph Heckeroth.

It was announced that the auditing committee for 1952-53 will be Mrs. Theodore Lee, William J. Melville and Lloyd Lund.

Mrs. Hutty read a letter from Lewis A. Wilson, commissioner of education, State Education Department, Albany, stating that "this annual school meeting is one in which you are fulfilling your civic duty."

Village Notes

Woodstock, May 7—Clark Bell, son of Mrs. Jerry Jeromínek, will return to his home here June 3 from St. Johns Kanty Preparatory School at Erie, Pa. He will be at Deanie's again this summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry B. Wehle will spend next weekend at their home on Glasco Turnpike.

Mrs. Cy Harriman will return to her home in this village, with her two children, May 10.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Van Rensselaer are moving to their new trailer home in Wittenberg.

Mrs. Bev Anderson has returned from a trip to Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Hartmann came from New York to spend the weekend at their home here.

Mr. and Mrs. John Nichols are spending the summer at Newport, R. I.

A. L. Sainer, co-owner of the Woodstock Playhouse, spent the weekend in this village with his sister, Mrs. Robert H. Harris, who will also be associated with the theatre this summer.

Mr. and Mrs. James B. Turnbull, of Sawkill road, have left for a trip to Mexico.

Four Boys Die As Ditch Collapses

Safford, Ariz., May 7 (AP)—The sandy banks of an excavation for a sewer line crashed down on seven boys yesterday, killing four and pinning the others temporarily under tons of earth.

The dirt gave way suddenly as the youngsters were playing in the bottom of the nine-foot ditch.

The dust raised by the cave-in attracted Mrs. Enos Howard, who was coming out of her nearby home. She ran to the scene with a shovel and began screaming for help.

Police and firemen were summoned quickly, but were unable to bring up the four bodies in less than 20 minutes as the sand kept crumbling back into the hole.

The dead were Manuel Sanchez, 12; his two brothers, Junior, 10, and Mario, 5; and Rito Bencomo, 9.

The other three boys who were rescued unharmed were Peto Sanchez, 6; Henry Bencomo, 13; and Raymond Mata, 8. The Bencomos were brothers.

Oil Coordinating

a hopeful note, but a spokesman for the Cities Service Oil Co., one of the largest firms hit by the strike, revealed a telegram had been sent to the WSB agreeing to resume negotiations.

The telegram also said Cities Service would resume operations if strikers would return to work.

In San Francisco, what was described as the best offer yet was rejected by CIO oil workers' negotiators. The offer—for a plant not on strike—included a 15-cent hourly wage boost and increased afternoon and graveyard shift differentials. The unions are asking 25 cents hourly.

The average pay now ranges from $2 to $2.10 hourly and night shift differentials are 4 cents from 4 p. m. to midnight and 6 cents from midnight to 8 a. m. The unions want these increased to 6 and 12 cents respectively.

Meeting at Guard Armory Is Changed To Thursday Night

The meeting to help young men of the area to decide on how they can fulfill their military obligations through the National Guard has been changed to Thursday at 8 p. m. in the armory of the 156th Field Artillery Battalion, Manor avenue.

Announcement of this was made today by Lt. Col. Frank W. Harkin, who said the shift from Friday was made because of many other activities scheduled throughout the city that night.

All young men between the ages of 17 and 18½ years, from Kingston and surrounding communities of Ulster county, and their parents are urged by Harkin to attend the meeting.

"This is a public service that should not be overlooked by our young men," said Col. Harkin relative to the program to acquaint them with the details of how they can fulfill their military obligations.

Teachers to Attend

Teachers from the faculty of Kingston High School will be special guests of the 156th Field Artillery at Monday night's drill for an on-the-spot demonstration of training conducted and the facilities available to guardsmen.

The invitation was extended upon expression of a desire on the part of the teachers to learn more about what the guard can do for the youth of the community.

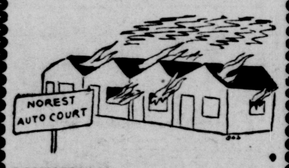

Although enlistments are being made each week, many attractive vacancies exist in the 156th Battalion, according to Col. Harkin.

Fowler, Donnaruma To Meet Kefauver

N. Jansen Fowler and Walter Donnaruma were scheduled to lead a delegation of Ulster County Democrats to Schoharie today where at 7 p. m., they were to meet Senator and Mrs. Estes Kefauver at the Parrot House in the upstate village.

The reception for Kefauver, who is in the race for nomination as the Democratic party's choice for president, was arranged by Assemblyman Sharon Mauhs, who is the Democratic chairman in Schoharie county.

QUESTION: Some friends of ours no sooner got their auto court built and rented than it burned out. Their fire insurance will rebuild it, but they'll lose the rent for several months. Isn't there some kind of insurance against the rent loss?

ANSWER: Yes. Rental insurance would pay them for any actual rental loss they suffered because of the fire. This type of insurance should be placed on any kind of income property.

•If you'll address your own insurance questions to this office we'll try to give you the correct answers and there will be NO CHARGE OR OBLIGATION OF ANY KIND.

Late Bulletin

Washington, May 7 (AP)—United States officials described as "fair" and as "final" today the package proposal for an armistice made to the Communists in Korea.

Deputy Secretary of Defense William C. Foster called it final, saying it has the approval of the United Nations allies and that there will be no further concessions.

But in talking to reporters, Foster said this firm stand is not an "ultimatum."

While the United States considers the offer final, Foster said, it is "perfectly willing" to discuss with the Reds the details.

Foster was asked what the alternatives would be if the Communists rejected the proposals.

Feinsinger Fears

"package" touched off a history-making wrangle in the steel case which led to President Truman's seizure of the steel mills.

Before Supreme Court

That action is now before the Supreme Court, with arguments scheduled to begin Monday. Pending a final decision, the steel mills are operating under government control.

Wilson, who quit as defense chief in the steel row, recommended yesterday that the WSB be stripped of its powers to enter into non-economic phases of labor disputes—such as the union shop issue.

Wilson told the labor committee it never was intended for the WSB to "force the union shop," or other non-economic decisions, on an entire industry as proposed in the board's steel recommendations.

He contended that nine cents an hour was a proper steel wage hike under the basic stabilization policy. Steelworkers now earn about $2 an hour, including overtime.

Wilson declared that, if the 26-cents hourly pay boost package recommendation by the board is allowed to stand, it means an inflationary movement which would add five to six billion dollars to defense costs in the next year.

returned prisoners after an armistice. Communist observers would be present. Anyone who then said he was willing to be repatriated would be returned promptly to the Communists, Ridgway said.

Nearly 40,000 of the 170,000 are South Koreans on whom the Reds now make no claim.

The allies say they won't force anyone to return. The Reds say this violates the Geneva Convention.

Views Restated

At Wednesday's negotiating session the Communists restated their views at length, an allied communique said. And Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy, chief UN delegate replied:

"Our position is clear, final and irrevocable. The issues are thoroughly understood and it is pointless to debate them further.

"Unless you have something new to offer, I propose we recess until such time as you desire to meet again."

The Reds had nothing new to offer but North Korean Gen. Nam Il asked for another meeting Thursday—without the veil of secrecy.

Secrecy was both imposed and removed at allied request. Ridgway explained it was imposed "to allow unhindered freedom of expression within the meetings."

Removal of secrecy permitted Ridgway to disclose the crucial status of negotiations at the moment of arrival of his successor, Gen. Mark Clark. Ridgway leaves Monday to succeed General Eisenhower in command of NATO in Europe.

Burglary Thwarted

Police said Bistany's arrest thwarted a $70,000 Newton, Mass., burglary planned for Monday night.

Bistany, Orfao and Lytwyn, although arraigned on the comparatively minor charge of gun carrying, are wanted for questioning in Massachusetts and New York in connection with at least one shooting and several robberies which netted thousands of dollars.

The FBI, in reporting Domanski's arrest, recalled the Middlesex County National Bank in Medford, Mass., had been robbed of $17,769 in a holdup March 10, 1952.

Six members of a Worcester, Mass., family have identified Bistany as one of three men who shot at and terrified them while trying to loot a wall safe in their home last November.
